An Artist Returns

Eric Isenburger, 1957-58 "Visitor" is Back at MWC

A returning 'visiting artist' has some "good memories" of Mary Washington College.

Eric Isenburger, the visiting artist at MWC during the 1957-58 school year, has returned to the college in a similar position for the second semester of the 1972-73 session. Mr. Isenburger, a German-born artist now associated with the National Academy of Design in New York City, will again be conducting classes in drawing and painting skills.

Eric Isenburger

Mr. Isenburger recalls that there were 21 students in his painting class of 15 years ago, and that some developed into "very good painters." Two of the names that occurred to Mr. Isenburger were Virginia Moseley, '58, and Henryetta deShields Callahan, '58. One other student, a "very realistic painter," as Mr. Isenburger recalled, had won a $1,000 prize in a Washington, D.C. art competition of college students of Virginia.

The 1957-58 class, Mr. Isenburger remembered, had held exhibitions at both MWC and Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, and that both showings had been "very well received."

There were some "real painters" in the class, he recalled, and some who had "started out with nothing and ended up with very much." But Mr. Isenburger does not claim any credit for the success of his students. "I try to bring out the personality of each individual student," he said. "I only try to have the students express themselves freely, to help bring out their innermost."

The neo-impressionist painter says that he does not try to direct his students into any one particular style of painting. He says that he stresses fundamentals, and then helps each student master a personal style. "I want to develop them to paint very freely," he said, "to find themselves."

Mr. Isenburger lived by that creed. "I started out as an abstract painter," he recalled, "and slowly went through every movement until I found my own style."

Mr. Isenburger has been very successful with that style. His work is represented in scores of museums and private collections, including Mary Washington College, and he has had many exhibitions in New York and in museums and universities in the United States and abroad. His work has also won for him recognition, awards, and prizes from the Corcoran Gallery of Art, the Carnegie Institute, the Audubon Association, and the American Academy of Arts and Letters. His work is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art; the Wadsworth Atheneum; Swarthmore College; the Encyclopaedia Britannica Collection; the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts; The John Herron Art Institute, Indianapolis, Indiana; The William E. Scott Collection in the Fort Worth, Texas, Art Center; Mount Holyoke College; The Dr. Young Memorial Museum, San Francisco, California; Philharmonic Hall, Lincoln Center, New York; The Bezalel Museum in Jerusalem; and many others.

He is at Mary Washington on leave of absence as an instructor at the School of Fine Arts of the National Academy of Design, at which he has been an Academician since 1957.

MWC's Visiting Artist

Homecoming '73

Homecoming 1973, April 13-15, promises to be a memorable weekend for all returning alumni and spouses. The reunion classes which will be recognized are 1913, 1918, 1923, 1928, 1933, 1938, 1943, 1948, 1953, 1958, 1963, 1968 and the Class of 1972.

Among activities planned for Friday, April 13 are visits to academic classes in session and that night, an on campus party with live entertainment.

Saturday's schedule begins with a continental breakfast followed by the alumni annual meeting which will be chaired by Carol Pridgen Gill, Alumni Association President. President Simpson will welcome the alumni and bring greetings from the College.

Highlighting the agenda will be the presentation of the Alumni Award for 1973. Members of the class of 1923 returning for their fiftieth reunion will also receive special recognition at this time.

The program following the business meeting will feature a talk by Dr. Edward Alvey, Jr., on the background and research he has completed for his book on the history of Mary Washington College soon to be published. Dr. Alvey was Dean of the College for 34 years preceding his retirement in 1967.

Dr. Alvey will share with the alumni many of the fascinating and humorous stories connected with the founding and history of Mary Washington – from the ground breaking ceremony for Monroe, the first permanent building, to the present state of the College.

Alumni and spouses will be the guests of President and Mrs. Simpson for lunch at Brompton.

For those wishing to indulge in physical exercise after lunch, the golf course, tennis courts and handball courts will be available for use. Student guides will also be on hand at the Alumni House Saturday afternoon for those who would like a guided tour of the campus.

An art exhibit featuring the work of Gary Melchers will be open to alumni Saturday afternoon in duPont Hall.

Class reunions and picture taking will be scheduled for late Saturday afternoon followed by individual class banquets Saturday night.

Breakfast Sunday morning in Seacobeck Hall will conclude the activities for the weekend.

Trinkle Library Implements Changes to Improve Service

The E. Lee Trinkle Library has implemented several new features to help protect MWC students and their valuable library property from those persons not covered by the Honor Code. Recent incidents of rowdiness within the library and the growing list of missing books were prime factors in forcing the new system of control.

Now, a student or watchman at a desk in the front of the library foyer will secure the identification of all who enter the building, and though MWC students need merely display their school identification cards, a visitor must sign a name and address and a reason for visiting the hall. This is not done to restrict in any way the number of visitors to the library. Rather, it is done so that any potential troublemaker will be easily identifiable, and so will perhaps be less inclined to upset the persons, or routine, in the library.

Also, this front desk serves as a secondary checkpoint on possibly unchecked library material being taken out of the building.

The loss of books had been a constant problem, felt mostly by the student who would settle down to work in the Trinkle Library, only to find that the very works needed for a certain paper were missing and yet had not been checked out. This had been particularly evident with Reserve Books, those which an individual professor had requested be put aside for special consideration by certain classes. The reserve stacks had been open for unlimited browsing, but now a student need only examine the prepared list of books on closed-reserve, and then call at the desk for the work, or works, needed.

Mrs. Ruby Weinbrecht, Trinkle Librarian and MWC graduate, said, "The situation got so bad at the end of the semester, that this was the only thing we could do." Mrs. Weinbrecht believes that the MWC community has adapted very well to the new system. "There have been very few complaints," she said. Mrs. Weinbrecht further believes that service to the College Community, "the library's primary function"' has improved. "Good service to students," she continued, "does not have a price tag."

Male Basketball a Sport at MWC

It may be hard for many of the alumni to comprehend, but Mary Washington College athletics may be on the verge of losing its image as a powder-puff haven. The school, which became co-ed three years ago, now has a male basketball team, or "club" which can hold its own on any other club or junior-college court. And for a school with a male enrollment of 50, this may well be one of the next noted wonders of the world.

The basketball team, wholly player-run and player-financed, has compiled a three-year record of 45 wins and only 21 losses, with their best season during the 1970-71 year, when a 15-3 record was achieved. So far this year the Dragons, as they are called, have compiled an 8-4 record, including a record 101-67 triumph over the Virginia National Guard. Some of the other teams played by the Dragons this year include: Vepco, Quantico O.C.S., Radio Station WFLS, Barrington College JV, Germanna, and the Fredericksburg J.C.'s.

The team, which is not supported financially by the college, is actually one on which anyone connected with the college can play. This means students, of course, but faculty members, as well, can play. Right now, in fact, there is even a school janitor on the squad.

Games and practices occur, whenever possible, in the Mary Washington College gymnasium. The problem is that since the basketball team is not officially recognized by the Administration or the Physical Education Department, the Dragons must settle for gym-time only when all school-based activities, no matter how trivial, have been concluded.

"We're the low men on the totem-pole," Coach and Professor Marshall Bowen points out. "We sometimes don't get to use the gym until nine or nine-thirty at night." But as it stands, Bowen said, "We only play together, including games and practices, maybe three or four times a week."

Through twelve games, the Mary Washington Dragons have averaged some 82 points a game, while the opposition has averaged only 75 points each time out on the court. The Dragons' weakness is under the boards, as the taller opposition clubs often manage to control the rebounds. Over the season, the opposition has outrebounded the Dragons 631-500.

"We may be smaller than a lot of the other teams," Coach Bowen said, "but we try to go out and win every game. With our lack of size (our biggest man is 6'3"), we just try to run the other team to death. Run, run, run. That's what we have to do."

Requests for games are never-ending, and scheduling is becoming extremely involved. "We can play local clubs any time," the Coach says, "but to play a college team, or even its J.V., you have to schedule the game during the April before the season, or even the school year opens. "For us," Coach Bowen continued, "it's dangerous, since we'll never know until the school year opens what kind of athletes we'll be getting back."

Then this year must have been a lucky one. According to Coach Bowen, after a close game against the Quantico Marine Base, a game which the Dragons lost, the Base Coach said that the Mary Washington team was "a good small-college team," although "midget," in terms of player size.

"It's taking a lot of my time," Coach Bowen acknowledges, "and in fact the whole deal may be getting just a little too big for a faculty member to handle. What we need is for someone in the P.E. Department to take over the whole program. I'd hate to see this team fold, as it's now the only outlet for our male students to compete on an even semi-collegiate level."

Susan Fox to Appear in "Play It Again, Sam!"

Susan Fox, '72, has been slated for a part in the production, "Play It Again, Sam," by Woody Allen, at the Hayloft Dinner Theater in Manassas. Miss Fox, who majored in drama at MWC, has been an apprentice in the theater, and has been involved in further study of dance, voice, and acting, in a formal training program there.

Miss Fox held the lead role in several plays at MWC. She portrayed Olga and Madame Raneskaia in the Chekov plays, "Three Sisters" and "The Cherry Orchard," respectively, and Susan also starred as Dona Elvira in Moliere's "Don Juan."

Honor Case Dismissed

The Board of Visitors has been advised by the Office of the Attorney General of Virginia and by the College's Special Counsel that no official statement on the suit brought against the Board by a former student who was expelled in December, 1971 by the Honor Council (see "MWC Today," December, 1972, page 4) be made until the period for appeal has passed, or until the case is no longer in litigation. An attempt will be made to give a full review of the case at a later date. The following artilec case at a later date. The following article appeared in the February 5, 1973, edition of The Bullet and is reprinted here with slight editorial modifications made by the author.

By SUSAN BELTER

A United States district court judge in Richmond has dismissed the suit brought against the Mary Washington College Board of Visitors by a former MWC student.

Judge Albert V. Bryan, Jr., dismissed the suit, brought by Brenda Page Bright, on the grounds that no substantial federal question was involved. In her suit Mrs. Bright claimed that the MWC Board of Visitors had no right to delegate the power of absolute dismissal to a student organization such as the Honor Council. She had earlier been dismissed from the school when the Honor Council had found her guilty of an on-campus theft from another student.

In December Judge Bryan had dismissed the case when Mrs. Bright was offered reinstatement at the school. She filled out the form for readmission but was rejected because she refused to sign on the form that she would abide by the Honor Code. Therefore her lawyer decided to reopen the case. He applied for a temporary restraining order to permit Mrs. Bright to enroll at MWC until the suit was settled.

On January 16 Judge Robert Merhige denied a temporary restraining order because Judge Bryan was going to hear the suit in February. The same day attorneys for the Board of Visitors asked that the original dismissal of the case be activated. Judge Bryan agreed to hear the case January 22.

At the hearing the attorneys for the Board of Visitors argued that no substantial federal question was involved, that Mrs. Bright had been offered restitution and had been aware of the Honor Code when she had enrolled at the college. Judge Bryan agreed with their argument and dismissed the case, but he noted that the question of delegation of power was still unresolved. Mrs. Bright now can either let the dismissal of the case stand or take her suit to the state court or the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Staff Reorganized in Office of Information Services

Mary Washington President Grellet C. Simpson has announced the reorganization of the College's Office of Information Services.

Mrs. Barbara B. Powell, Administrative Assistant in the Office of the President since 1970, will also serve as Director of Information Services, and Mr. Edward G. Moore, a December graduate of Washington and Lee University, has assumed the responsibilities of a newly-created position, Editorial Assistant.

The changes were implemented following the resignation of Mr. Thomas P. Mann, who headed the Information Services Program from 1967 until he left the College January 1 to operate a Fredericksburg printing firm.

Under the new arrangement, the expanded office will assume the responsibilities for distributing news releases to the media, as well as preparing all College publications, including the weekly College Bulletin; the bi-monthly MWC Today, a tabloid style newspaper sent to alumni, parents, students, faculty, and staff; and all catalogues, as well as brochures, and programs.

Mrs. Powell, a resident of King George, is a graduate of Mary Washington College and is currently completing a graduate program in communications at American University.

Mr. Moore, a native of Coral Gables, Florida, received his BA with a major in journalism from Washington and Lee last month.

Motion Filed in Honor Case

The following article appeared in the Fredericksburg Free-Lance Star on February 8, 1973, several days after the above story had been set in type for "MWC Today."

The Mary Washington College honor system may once again find itself the subject of a court hearing, if Judge Albert V. Bryan Jr. grants a motion to vacate that was filed by Mrs. Brenda Page Bright.

Mrs. Bright filed the motion last week that asks Bryan to reconsider his decision of January 22 in which he dismissed the suit against the college's Board of Visitors on the grounds there was no substantial federal question involved.

The U.S. District Court clerk's office in Richmond said the motion is under advisement by Bryan. If he decides to grant the motion, the case could once again wind up in court after having been dismissed twice.

However, if Bryan does not grant the motion, the case may be appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals or taken to a state court.

Mrs. Bright contended in the suit that her rights had been violated under the 14th amendment to the Constitution when she was dismissed by the college's Honor Council for being found guilty of an on-campus theft.

Student Newspaper Seeks Name Change

The staff of the student newspaper, "The Bullet," is seeking alumni support and suggestions for a change of name for the publication. Any ideas or opinions on the project should be sent to "The Bullet," P.O. Box 1115, Fredericksburg.

Staff Members Added in Admissions, Library

Recent appointments to the Mary Washington College administration include Miss Brenda Joanne Lamison, as Admissions Counselor, and Miss Cathy Lynn Ritchie, as Periodicals Librarian.

Miss Lamison

Miss Brenda Lamison, a 1972 graduate of Hampton Institute, will be primarily responsible for meeting and interviewing prospective high school students who visit the campus. Miss Lamison will also be traveling to regional secondary schools for the purpose of encouraging minority-group students to apply to Mary Washington.

Miss Ritchie

Miss Cathy Ritchie, a native of Fredericksburg, attended James Monroe High School and Appalachian State College in Boone, North Carolina, before graduating from Virginia Polytechnical Institute and earning a masters degree in library science from Western Michigan University. She recently assumed the post of Periodicals Librarian in E. Lee Trinkle Library.

The recently completed wing of the maintenance building housing the laundry facilities of the College appears above. Pictured below is the architect's sketch of the entire facility which will cost approximately $1 million. Offices and trade shops will be located in the front and a store room will be located at the left. The building shown in the rear was not included in the contract for the facility. H. C. Johnson Jr. and Associates of Fredericksburg designed the colonial style building that will be located at the rear of the College's golf course.

Mary Grace Brown is Librarian at Petersburg Hospital

Since 1967, Mrs. Mary Grace Hawkins Brown, '38, has been the Librarian in the Medical Library of the Petersburg General Hospital. A Petersburg native, Mrs. Brown had worked part-time at the hospital during most of her two decades of teaching and library administration at Bolling Junior High School in that city.

Following her graduation from MWC, Mrs. Brown had studied library science at the graduate levels of the University of Virginia and Columbia University. She is now a member of both the Virginia Library Association and the Medical Library Association, and in the course of her duties Mary Grace has written several articles for The Virginia Medical Monthly, the official publication of The Medical Society of Virginia. At the present time, she is planning work on another article, "The History of The Medical Society of Virginia."

Ethel Young, Former Resident

Mrs. Ethel Daniel Young, a former head resident at MWC, died Wednesday, February 7, 1973, at Petersburg General Hospital.

Mrs. Young's late husband, Dr. Walter J. Young, was head of the Mary Washington College Department of Psychology and Philosophy until his death in 1940. Mrs. Young served as head resident at the College until 1944.

She is survived by her son W. Jorgensen Young of Petersburg, four grandchildren, and 11 great grandchildren.

The funeral services were held Friday, February 9, at J.T. Morriss & Son Funeral Home in Petersburg with Dr. Robert C. Vaughn officiating. Interment was at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Fredericksburg.

The Alumni

From The President . . .

Dear Alumni:

Evidence of increased alumni support for Mary Washington College has been coming into Spotswood Alumni House all fall and winter. Many of you have made increased gifts to the Alumni Fund. I trust others of you are busy filling your banks. Some of you have shown your interest by fulfilling responsibilities on committees, in chapters, or as agents. Alumni activity is on the upswing in this our first year of being a fully recognized college with our own Board of Visitors. It is rather exciting to be involved in the life of the college in this new day.

Much of the credit for this increased alumni support should go to Diana Koski, our new Director of Alumni Affairs. Enthusiastic and vivacious, Diana brings skill, dedication and hard work to the Alumni Office. I hope many of you will meet her soon. One opportunity to do so will be at Homecoming.

Homecoming is scheduled for April 13-15, 1973, when Fredericksburg and the campus will be bursting into the beautiful blossoms of spring. It would be a wonderful opportunity for you to return to the College and see some of your old friends, visit familiar places, take pride in new developments, and just have a good time. Dean Ahey will bring back memories to many of us as he shares stories and anecdotes from the history of the College he is writing. President and Mrs. Simpson have graciously invited us to a luncheon at Brompton, always a highlight of our weekend. Special entertainment and reunion dinners are planned for our enjoyment. I think it will be a pleasant weekend for all of us. I will be there, and I hope you will too.

Sincerely,
Carol Pridgen Gill '59

I would like to thank all those who gave of their time and money to the 1972 Mary Washington Alumni Fund Campaign. It was gratifying to note that not only our dollar amount increased but we also had several donors who had not previously given to the College. This year I am asking for even more support because Mary Washington urgently needs it to maintain her standards of excellence. If you would like to work as an assistant agent during the Campaign (April through June) and have not already been contacted by me, please write me as soon as possible, and I will see that you have all the necessary information. I need the support of all the members of the Class of 1966 to make 1973 the best year to date. Thanks again and I look forward to hearing from you.

Chapter Notes

The Maryland Suburban Chapter held its Fall Luncheon at The Three Kings restaurant in Montgomery Mall. We were pleased to have Diana Koski, the new Director of Alumni Affairs, as our guest speaker. As we were a small group all of us were able to enjoy talking with her. In her enthusiastic way, she explained her many ideas on how to reach many more alumni. We found her quite creative.

The future plans for the chapter include a Winter Luncheon on February 10; an April 7 Tasting Luncheon to be held from noon until 2 p.m. at the Glen Echo Maryland Town Hall and a June 12 Spring Luncheon with installation of officers.

My dear Classmates,

The year of 1972 comes to a close and we embark on the New Year, 1973. I do hope that each of you may enjoy good health and have a happy year.

Where shall I start? I don't want to omit any news as I can't always stir up very much. In October Virginia Bolen drove down from Culpeper to visit her brother, Robert. He and his wife took her to her first Tobacco Festival Parade. She also attended the annual exhibit of chrysanthemums at the Carillon. She came in the rain for a short visit with me. Her stay was too short, not half enough time to talk.

In talking by phone with Ettienette Broaddus Moore I learned that Beulah Detwiler Anderson had sent her a clipping of the death of Fay Sprinkle Trice '18. She leaves one son. Our sympathy to him and other surviving relatives.

Since I last wrote Ettienette has had some wonderful tours of old homes in the Gum Springs area, Louisa County and Williamsburg. She had been on a recent visit to relatives in Lynchburg. How does Ettienette accomplish so much?

Lillian Waring Edwards and husband were able to attend a granddaughter's wedding in Newport News. They were able to see a new great-grandchild from New England at the same time. I read the account of the wedding in the Times Dispatch and saw the picture of the bride. Speaking of Lillian, when I was visiting my daughter in Roanoke in November, she and I drove to Buchanan and had a nice visit with the Edwards. I wouldn't have recognized her. Saw her in 1914.

Another thing I did in Roanoke was to call Mabel Craig. She is still cataloging books at her home for her church library. Much of her time is spent in the selection of books as memorial gifts. She inquired especially about Beulah Detwiler Anderson. She loaned me Singing Hills, written by her sister, Lillian Kennerly Craig, and gave me The Road from Echo, which I highly prize.

In August at a Homecoming of Bowling Green, Baptist Church, someone threw her arms around me. When I looked, it was Mary Wright Kay '22 whom I taught one year near Sparta. She was a lovely student then and has grown into a fine woman, now a widow with two children and some grandchildren. Was privileged to see her again in December at the home of my niece in Woodford. Mary lives in Woodford.

Christmas cards came from Mannie Toebert Kelly, Fannie Hiter Bowie, Bealmear Linthicum Masters, Edna Gibbs Hunter, Ettienette Broaddus Moore, Sarah Gouldman McAllister, Elsie Wood Rice and Margaret Sayre Ransone. Other MWC girls were Virginia Saunders '18, Lucy Kennedy Boyle '13, and Jessie Daughtie Edwards '28. A joy to have little messages from them. Bealmear writes that she is doing some social work and visiting shut-ins. She was looking forward to the homecoming of a grandson who is attending the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla.

Edna's family from Florida was coming for her Dec. 16 and she planned to stay with them until February. In Nov. Janet La Crosse Hankin and Margaret spent the day with Edna.

Fannie has built and moved into a new home in Bowling Green. She is near the Baptist Church and has good neighbors. I hear she is very happy.

Sarah had a very unfortunate experience in September. While returning from the grocery store, she was attacked and robbed. She suffered a broken arm, bruises and abrasions, was hospitalized for some time but writes that she is better now.

One of Elsie's granddaughters is living in her home while the husband is serving in Okinawa. Elsie enjoys the one-year-old great-grandchild.

I must not fail to tell you that Sarah's daughter, Rita Boothby, has sold another one of her stories to a magazine for a nice sum. At Christmas Elsie received a subscription to Ellery Queen Mystery Magazine, so she will be looking forward to reading Rita's story. She writes under the nom de plume of Ellen Arthur. Some of you may want to read the story. Rita has recently been appointed secretary to the Boston Chapter of Mystery Writers of America and editor of their paper, The Semi-private Eye.

Margaret's recent letter gave news of the Graves sisters. Jean Groves Delaney '14 has four grandchildren, each in a different college. Junie E. Graves '14, despite a bad heart condition, had organized a literacy council in Bedford where she lives, has taught a cooking class in her own kitchen, teaches songs and games and also plays the piano for a child care center each week.

Margaret and Janet get together once a week for a visit or "eats". Margaret's home was surrounded by water in the October flood, but none came into the house. Ten inches of rain fell in one night. Margaret keeps busy entertaining relatives, keeping house and looking after the sick and elderly. She and her sister had a fairly recent visit with Erle Theimer in Urbanna.

In early December I saw Lucy Wallace Wolker Smith '24 at a Homemaker's Club, where the members were busy making decorations and gifts for the sick and shut-ins. In our conversation I was surprised and interested to learn that Lucy and Elsie Wood Rice taught in the same school in Fredericksburg. My daughter, Ann, is a member of the Homemaker's Club and I was visiting her.

Some folks have been wondering where Elizabeth Chenery Eley went when she left Richmond. A card from the office informed me that she is at Thetford Center, Vermont. Haven't heard anything from Grace Beazley '16 for some time. She was back in the hospital during the summer. I presume she is now at Beaverdam and doing well.

I was reading the Caroline Progress and noticed that Lottie Broaddus '13 was recently honored on her birthday by some friends about the same time my family was celebrating my birthday. We all remember Lottie and her triumphs in basketball.

Ettienette and I had a phone chat since Christmas. Her granddaughter is moving to Mobile, Ala., where her husband has been transferred. Ettienette keeps busy and on the go, attending club and church activities. She recently lost a very dear aunt who had reached the age of 94 years.

Shall be expecting to have news from you.

Love,
Ruth

Well, Howdy, Y'all,

It has been good to hear from several of the "girls" the past months and I know all of you will be glad to have news of each of them. Ina Taylor Powell '16 was a dear friend of mine even though she was a senior when I was just a freshman and recently I had a note from her. Also enclosed was a blow by blow account of a recent trip to the Holy Land. The trip was a Christmas gift from her son Bill and his wife Ida. I can't think of anyone who would appreciate such a wonderful trip more than Ina.

As I was writing this, the mail came, and in it two letters from Cape Charles, one from Ina, the other from Bert Hallett Goffigon '17, both telling me of the death of Jouette Evans Nottingham's husband. They had been married almost 48 years. We sorrow with Jouette and I feel that many of you will want to let her hear from you.

In recent days, I have been going through boxes of pictures, newspaper clippings, etc. I am finding pictures of some of us taken back when we were all there at the College. Through the years as some of you have married and we have stayed in touch, pictures have passed first of the children, then the "Grands". I am now getting these together and sending them back to the different ones for them to share with the families that have grown and possibly have not enough pictures of other days to go around. Celia Pearson Glasgow was one of the ones, and I have had a most appreciative note from her saying she did not have the photograph I sent, for hers had been lost in a fire, and she was so glad to have this one for now her children can see how she looked in those days! Celia had just arrived home from Cincinnati where she had visited her daughter Connie, and was there to see Connie's oldest daughter, who is a candy striper, receive a volunteer junior pin for 500 hours of service. Celia gets around and belongs to the Senior Citizens of Chesapeake and they had been to Canada, Florida and several other interesting places in the past year.

Two of the years I was at Fredericksburg, I roomed with sisters, Ida and Mary (Teet) Blankenbaker. I had several good pictures of Mary so sent them to Ida Blankenbaker Hoffman. Mary passed away several years ago and Ida's hus-

Dear Classmates,

Happy 1973! To quote from a sermon I read--"Be a new me in '73." At least I can try! New Year's resolutions are easily broken as we all know, but I hope I can overcome some of my procrastination, among other things.

Between the notes written on Bill Wheeler McCallum's Christmas cards and my own, I have some news for you.

Dr. Greer Darter had a stroke in May, 1972, and has made a miracle comeback. He would enjoy seeing any of his friends.

Our class sponsor, Dr. C. G. G. Moss, was married last July to Lilla Eaton, and they live in Farmville. We wish for them many years of happiness.

Edna Horley Sickels wrote that she and her husband had five great weeks in Europe in the Spring of 1972. They especially enjoyed wandering in rural England, and had five beautiful days in Amsterdam.

Edna Lovering is retired from government service.

Adelle Mansfield Goodwin's daughter, Judy, teaches in England and was home for Christmas for the first time in five years. Her second daughter, Martha, was married in the Wren Chapel of William and Mary on July 2, 1972, and is living in Bloomfield, N.J. Her husband teaches, and they are both graduates of William and Mary. Adelle wrote that she has no more teenagers as her son, Billy, was 20 last July.

Faye Whitehead and Emil Hladky were in Nova Scotia last July to observe a total solar eclipse in all its glory from Malignant Cove. Emil is recovering from a stroke later which paralyzed his right arm and leg, and is back to work on a full time basis. Their older son, Stephen, is on the second day of a three year post-doctoral fellowship at Cambridge University, England. William, the second son, supervises a business office of a Rickell's store, a chain store selling hardware, lumber, etc. in Ridgewood, N.J.

Audrey Rose Burton has a new grandson born in 1972. She and her husband spent Christmas in New Jersey with their children.

Susie Dickinson Hudson's daughter and son-in-law from Washington, D.C. spent Christmas with them, along with her younger daughter, Bettye Sue, a student at Auburn University. Susie lives in Montgomery, Ala.

Dorothy McGuire Bunch and her daughter, Susie, came to see me in November. Dorothy has invited us to have a reunion at her cottage at Sandbridge, Va. this summer. Write her at 5929 Glenhaven Circle, Norfolk 23508, if you think you can come. The date will be determined by the time convenient to the most of us, so please state the best date for you. Thank you so much for the invitation, Dorothy!

Mary Frances Reeve Varner and her husband had a month's vacation in Greece last Spring, and they "loved every ruin."

Frances Curtis Smith Proferes and her daughter, Anita, visited Bill Wheeler McCallum during the Christmas holidays. Anita is a freshman at Westhampton College. Frances Curtis' older son, Dr. J., works in Australia, and another son is a student at VPISU.

Louise Jennings Creamer, Millbrae, Calif., had all her children home for Christmas. Louise is a full time teacher at a continuing education high school for potential dropouts in the Bay Area. Her daughter, Judy, son-in-law and two grandchildren came home last August after two years in the Peace Corps in Accra, Ghana, Africa. Her younger daughter, Sally, graduated from Arizona State University last June with an English teaching credential. Her son, Bob, was married in August, 1971. He is Probation Officer at San Mateo.

Thelma Evan's son, Jimmy, was married December 30. He is Assistant Dean of Men at Duke University.

Ruby Lee Norris Norris' new address is 2422 Grove Ave., Richmond, 23220. A third grandchild is on the way.

Edna Doniel Sheaks directs the Woman's Club Chorus in Newport News. A lovely picture of Edna playing her autoharp was in the Newport News Times Herold newspaper. Her husband, Barkley, is widely recognized for his paintings, and his picture appears in the paper frequently. He teaches art at Norfolk Wesleyan College.

Lois White Hines has a four-year-old granddaughter. Both her two daughters were in an automobile accident, and one was seriously injured. Thankfully, they have recovered.

Sally Woodfolk Andrews '35 lives in Mineral, Va., on a dairy farm.

Marjorie Denent Britton and her husband went to the West Coast last Fall. They have a grandson born last Spring.

Lois Phipps Brown wrote me in October that she had been to see Mary Paul Phillips Lacy out in Colorado in the summer of 1972. Mary Paul's husband is a college professor, and she has three children. Please forgive me, but I have put this letter in such a special place that I can't find it! Lois' husband is the minister of Ginter Park Presbyterian Church in Richmond. I saw her when I attended Union Theological Seminary Day on October 25. We had missed seeing each other at the coffee hour the first part of the program, and then spent the rest of the time in between sessions trying to find each other. Not having seen each other for thirty-six years, we knew we would have to look at name tags. At quarter of three as we were leaving the dining hall following the afternoon program, I heard her asking: "Are you from Hampton?" She looks wonderful, and I went to her home for a little visit. Her lovely daughter, a senior in high school, was there. Twin sons are resident ophthalmologists, and another son graduated from Union Theological Seminary in January, 1973. I surely enjoyed seeing Lois, my former suitemate in Mary Ball dorm.

All my children were home Christmas Eve and for most of Christmas Day. It was delightful for us all to be together under one roof if for only a short while. Memories of past Christmases when their Dad was with us on earth are especially dear. The newest member of the family is Richard Thompson, of Penhook, who married my second daughter, Pam, last July. They are now living in Blacksburg where Richard is a student at VPISU.

Don't forget to write Dorothy McGuire Bunch if you think you could come to a "mini-Reunion" this summer at Sandbridge, near Virginia Beach. Please send me some news about yourself. Again, I hope this will be a very good year for you, and God bless you all.

Love,
Ethel

Two classmates have changed addresses: Henrietta Roberts Echols now lives at 4405 Fellowship Lane, Virginia Beach 23455 and Susan Woodward Pearson at 2131 Potomac Drive, Topeka, Kansas 66605.

Having a visit from Doris Stagg Pruden and her husband was a real treat for me at molasses making time. They were put to work skimming and bottling the syrup while we caught up on a few of the years. Visits to several old homes in our area, the Blue Ridge Shores, and the nuclear energy plant in Louisa were part of the weekend visit too.

Mary Helsabeck Townsend wrote a note on a trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and annual Asberry homecoming in Rowland, N.C.

Ruth Acker McMichael sent a nice note with her Christmas greeting. She has a 10-month-old granddaughter who lives in Fairfax. The middle son Gary is a junior at Muskingum College in Ohio. Neal, the youngest, is a junior in high school. Husband Stuart is in much better health since his operation. She says that Janet Trenis Crismond '40 is still recovering from the serious accident in which she was hit by a car while crossing the street. Her youngest son is a graduate of V.P.I. in June. They plan to come back to Spotsylvania and open up an antique shop.

Bernice Whipple Camp and husband are spending their fourth winter in Florida and have recently bought some property down there. Mary says she is still waiting for your suggestions for plans for our 35th reunion in 1974. So please write her; her address is 666 McCall Rd., Englewood, Fla. 33533.

My daughter Becky, a junior at Westhampton College, has recently become engaged to Michael Dale, son of Shirley Barker Dale '49. My son Johnny finishes at Virginia Tech next quarter. If any of you are in the Louisa area, please come by to visit Quintus and me.

The holiday mail was a bit disappointing as to the number of you who wrote notes. However, it was wonderful to hear from some formerly silent classmates. May I also thank those of you who sent on updated addresses of some of our "lost" classmates.

Martha Ann Bradley Guerrant and her husband celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary with a trip to Portugal in October. One of "Bradley's" sons is working as a psychiatric aide after U.Va. training and the other son is a senior at Davidson. They live in colonial Williamsburg where her husband is a vice-president of the National Virginia Bank. "Bradley" often sees Meda Overman Hill who lives in Norfolk.

Another celebrant of 25 years married was Ann Jo Patteson Jackson and husband. They are both golf enthusiasts and played at Harbor Town while on a trip to Hilton Head Island in October. "Pat" won the ladies championship for the fourth time last summer. Her oldest son is in the Navy, another son is at Elon College, two daughters, a high school, one of which will be attending Westhampton in the fall.

Adelaide Dent Mims is in full swing with Twirl Towne, her new business venture. She finds serving twirlers, cheerleaders and dance students more fun than work.

Sally Wild Upshaw and family spent Christmas with her parents at Holmes Beach, Fla. I had a chance to visit with Sally and Betty Drummond Broaddus at the wedding of Sally's nephew in November.

With great sadness I report the death of another of our classmates. Our deepest sympathies are extended to the family of Jean Crarty Machonis who passed away on October 15, 1972. Rury Meyer Butler wrote to say she is in touch with Jean's husband and family.

Our son was accompanied home from college for the Christmas vacation by his fiancee. For our family, the holiday seemed too short. My husband retired from the government recently but was not satisfied to be idle. He is now happily associated with Philips Medical Systems traveling from one hospital to another discussing the state of Virginia.

The idea of a Class Log seems to have been an acceptable one so please start sending news clippings, snapshots, etc., of yourselves and your beloveds.

Our next news deadline will be April 23. This will be one week after Homecoming '73. Even though it won't be an anniversary year for us, why not come back anyway? Watch your mailbox for Homecoming bulletins from the Alumni Office. Here's hoping to see many of you in April!

Louise Carwile Hancock reports from Rustburg, Va. that she taught school for nine years and has been a homemaker since her son was born. Son-in-law employed by the U.S. Postal Service, is active in garden club and working on credentials for flower show judge accreditation. Her husband, a former teacher and high school principal, is presently associated with the school board. Son James III is a sophomore in high school and active in 4-H work in the county.

Julia Raymunt writes that she is busy trying to learn the ways of the corporate world as a managing editor at R.R. Bowker Co. in New York City. She explains that R.R. Bowker Co. is a subsidiary of Xerox Corp. but that they publish books, not duplicating machines, as the name would indicate.

Irvin Whitlow Westbrook didn't quite make it, under the wire, for the last issue. (I hope I do this time.) Kitten and her daughter had a visit with Jeanne Farrington Lake and her daughter when the latter was looking at southern colleges. Diana Westbrook is a junior at William and Mary. The Westbrooks also see Betsy Gilmer Coyner and family who live in Williamsburg. Betsy's husband is a history professor at William and Mary. Irvin's youngest child is in first grade now and she plans to substitute teach this year. Her eldest child is planning to be a social worker, which requires graduate study. The family spent a week's vacation in Florida in August and included Disney World.

Peggy Walton Mason also was tardy. She has a daughter at old MWC. Peggy is teaching nursery at St. Patrick's Episcopal school in Washington. They have a sailboat in Annapolis and sail the Chesapeake all year. Peggy said it will be over as my husband is contemplating the same—AML). The Masons vacationed at Myrtle Beach, S.C. They made a trip to Peggy's home state of Connecticut and visited Mary Shedden Dodd and Joanne Reycraft Crawford. The latter lives in Holland and was home on leave!

Leona Hall Howard wrote but gave little news except that she is feeling "half human" after surgery last summer. (In April I will go for mine and get some first hand news). I have Christmas cards from Mary Elwong Shannon, Leonatnill Howard, Charlotte Kalil Harvey, Betty Powell Logan, and Barbara Daneib Johnson.

Mary has two daughters in college now and one in high schools.

Charlotte's eldest daughter is at Guilford College in Greensboro, N.C. and making Dean's List. Her second daughter is in National Honor Society and has her own horse that she is teaching to jump. Charlotte is a medical social worker at the local hospital. She is also involved in her church activities, and the Faculty Wives Club from Utica College where her husband teaches. They went college hunting a year ago and visited with Ann Jackson Atkinson and Janet Carter Hudgins. They vacationed at Cape Cod, as usual.

Barbara vacationed at Disney World and Marineland and enjoyed camping at "Yogi Bear's Jellystone Park," which sounds like a regular resort.

Helen Reaves Simpson is currently director of Food Services for County schools in Amherst, Va. Her husband Karl has his own consulting engineering firm. Their four children are Gary, in 6th grade, Kathy, in 10th grade; Nancy, a high school senior; and Karen Leigh, a second year student at MWC majoring in speech pathology.

Margaret Mann Umphlett sends Happy New Year wishes from Clemson, S.C. where her husband is head of the Clemson University Botany Dept. and she is counselor at Liberty High School. The Umphletts were in Chapel Hill, N.C. for 13 years, Clyde with the University and Margaret with the public school system.

As I write this, another holiday season has just passed and it was great to get so many notes from MWC friends. It is interesting to record the progress of the children in the families from year to year.

Our family had a nice visit during the Christmas week with the Alm Sollows Orlenda at their home in New Providence, N.J. They are pretty well settled there after their move back from Texas. Barby, a senior in high school, is selecting colleges. Tom, 16, is interested in space operations and Jeff, 10, is an exuberant, fun-loving boy. Mim, active in church and school library work, has been putting her artistic talent to work setting up monthly displays in the library showcase.

Kay Venezia Boffa in Cranford, N.J., not far from Mim, received her M.A. in psychology from Teachers College, Columbia. Her area was development and learning. She also got into applied anthropology, doing some work in a Harlem school. She says "it really was a lot to take." Her son, John, is a freshman at Kenyon College, Ohio. Peter and Paul are high school junior and sophomore, respectively, and second grader Chris keeps their blood circulating, to quote Kay.

Another move has been made by Nancy Herring Stuart and Tom. They are at the Marine Corps Air Station at Cherry Pt., N.C. where Tom is Comptroller USMC Air Stations East. They enjoy the mild climate and are only 25 minutes from the ocean. Daughter Anne is a freshman at VCU in Richmond in pre-physical therapy. Nancy asks if there are any other class daughters there. Nancy has been keeping busy with volunteer tutoring, Red Cross work and has just found golf!

In early fall I received a post card from Piccadilly Circus, London signed Nathalie Dodson. They are spending Christmas in Switzerland for an IDS meeting for a week and then toured Paris, London and Frankfurt. She mentioned that Ginny Downer Williams '49 was at Myrtle Beach, S.C. with them this summer and they had great times. Nathalie's Christmas note which arrived early in Dec., said her oldest son was entering the service and her oldest daughter was to be married in a week.

Rachel Nickey Morgenthaler is still teaching in the Baltimore area and Skip has been traveling a lot for his company to Seattle. Son Lee is a junior at Tufts and Diane is a freshman at Lafayette. Youngest daughter Ellen is interested in art and silk-screened a lovely Christmas card. She is a high school junior. Rachel and she received greetings from Rosemary Miller—wish you'd drop me a line, Rosemary! In Jan. '72 Barbara Lloyd Hiller and Jim were in Baltimore from Ridgewood, N.J. and had dinner with Rachel and Skip. Barb said it was entirely too brief a get-together, but lots of fun. Then Barbara, Jim, and daughter Mary went to Jamaica for a vacation. Barb now has a new job—"sort of all around office person at a Craft Studio"—and enjoys the work. Daughter Susia is a sophomore at Indiana State and is still interested in nursing—has her uniforms now. Mary is a high school junior and also would like to pursue a medical career, but not nursing.

I can hardly keep up with the activities and careers of the Betty Gavert Lampard family in San Diego. Betty is now working part time as Christian Ed. Secretary at church plus directing two youth choirs, singing in adult choir, playing hand bells and her major chore of keeping things straight at home. Husband Clarke is a probation officer working with juvenile drug offenders at Campo. Daughter Lee graduated from high school and has been spreading her wings in various directions. She is musical, dances and is also an excellent actress. The boys, Clark, 16, and Kevin, 14, are also busy in church and musical activities. Clark got his driver's license and school letter in golf. I can see there is never a dull moment in the Lampard household!

Jean Sprower Hampton in Long Island said to look in the Nov. '72 issue of American Girl for a picture done by her daughter Linda, 15. Son John is in third grade and an eager Cub Scout; Kathy, five, is in kindergarten. Mason, a lawyer, has had many varied and interesting cases in N.Y. courts.

A note from Nan Wilton revealed that she will be leaving the L.A. area for San Francisco in Jan. We were expecting Nat on the East Coast late this past summer but instead she motored up the coast to Seattle and spent a great deal of time in the Mt. Shasta area.

The Shirley Cole Schleters in Garrett Park, Md. are another busy family. Son Chris has gained early acceptance in the U. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he plans to major in mass communication and journalism. Right now he is Master Councilor of his DeMolay Chapter and was honored by the Downtown Optimist Club as an "Outstanding Youth" in the area. Also finds time for schoolwork and being manager of the high school football and basketball teams. Shirley provides a taxi service for some of these activities and works outside the home three days a week. Husband John retired five weeks in England and Germany studying government programs supporting science and technology. He also keeps busy as Masonic work, traveling within the country. Shirley accompanied him to New Orleans for five days and had an enjoyable vacation.

In Atlanta is Jo Ann Hefner Hall! Hall says she has seen quite a bit of Elsie Cleary Rawson this fall as their 11-year-old boys play on the same Gra-Y team. And they won that league championship! They both had a visit from Jeney Gardner Mallory in Nov. Helen and family still keep going to Ormond Beach, Fla. and also got to Las Vegas and New Orleans.

It was great to receive a colored photo of Mary Cottingham Warren, Bob, and three children—a handsome bunch out there in Illinois. Two of their "offspring" are at Denver U. Kathi is a junior majoring in art and Rob, a freshman, is in auto tech. Chris is a high school senior, liking fashions and modeling.

I am sorry to say there were some sad notes also. Martha Carr Huddleston lost her husband, Stewart, in Aug. due to a heart attack. Martha is back teaching school again and has great help from her parents. Our belated sympathy is sent to you, Martha, to Eleanor Sullivan Lewis who lost her dad in Sept. '71, and to Gracie Perry Kather whose mother died in June '72.

Eleanor in Chevy Chase, Md. wrote that son Bob is in his second year at Maryland...interested in law school, and John, an asst. scoutmaster, will graduate from high school in June. They all spent a brief vacation in Kitty Hawk, N.C. this summer.

Gracia is active in the Framingham (Mass.) District Women's Republican Club and also garden club activities.

Well, that's the news keeping you up-to-date. Don't we have some wonderful alumni families? Wish you'd all make a resolution to support our Alumni Association this year and also to write me a few lines. I sent out a few requests for news this summer, and got only two responses. There is no backlog of news for our next column so please share a bit of your family activities with us.

Nancy Lee Fox Sease reports that she and her husband have been in Norfolk for six years and have bought a middle-aged house which they are re-doing. Her husband will retire from the Navy soon, and after 30 moves in the past 20 years they are looking forward to putting down roots. Son Hugh III is a senior in high school, an avid swimmer and interested in ocean sciences. She also wrote of her new thoroughbred horse which she hopes to show next season.

Mary Alice Ratchford Armstrong lives in Fountain Inn, S.C. with her husband Jerry and two sons. Jerry owns two general insurance agencies in Fountain Inn and a neighboring town. Mary Alice is active as a violinist in the Greenville Symphony Orchestra, as a member of the Fountain Inn Music Club and the garden club.

In 1968 Frances Moorman Hawkins' husband left his coaching profession to enter Union Theological Seminary. During their three years in Richmond Frances worked as a general duty nurse at Stuart Circle Hospital and later worked as an instructor at Johnston-Willis Hospital School of Nursing. After her husband's graduation they accepted a small church in Manchester, Va. Currently they are in Winston Salem, N.C. where her husband is assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church. She says her husband and four children, ages 15, 13, 11 and 7, love the area.

Happy 1973!

Do hope that this letter gets into the mail before 1974! I'm working at one spend these weeks—slow.

It was great to hear from some of you over the holidays. Ellie Pratt is working as a CPA in Washington, D.C. and enjoying it very much. We are hoping to meet with Shirley Supple Shonio before this year is out. She mentioned that Clara Williams Parker lives 10 miles away from her, do not know whether they have gotten together or not. (Staunton) Norman and I spent a really enjoyable weekend with Sue Knapp Rudisill and Meade Cole during the Christmas holidays. Sue and John's daughter, Sandra Cutchins Pittman lives fairly near me and I haven't had a chance to see her, but she'd write me a card that they have a new baby boy, Blair, born on Sept. 15. Congratulations!

It's now 9 degrees here and cold and I wish that I could be in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. with Joan Tengtelius Strong and John. I believe that they moved to Fla. last year. Am I right?

Heard from my little sister at MWC, Irene Piscopo Rodgers '58. She is living in Conn.

I was happy to hear from Cathy Pizzuti Petrauiolo and Ed. I missed attending a party at their home in Dec., but we were away. Cathy and Ed went to Italy this past summer and went to Canada with the four children. Lou Ann Ashby Steffey and Jerry are basking in the sun of Hawaii . . . if that isn't good duty, I don't know what is. Lou Ann is busy taking in the sights and raising four children.

Barbara Wooten Wood is teaching sixth grade in Ohio. It's hard to believe that her oldest daughter is old enough to drive a car. Time goes by too quickly. .

We have another traveler in our busy class. Ginny Blackwell Bonanno and George went to Italy this summer and to the French Riviera. We have some skiers in the form of Mary Ann Bing Strayer and Dan. I find it interesting that their M.A. is still on the beginner's slope while the rest of the family is progressing. I thought that I had a touche or two of sort of things. Mary Ann and Lu do quite a bit of sailing while living on Cape Cod. You could probably give the Dahl's some lessons, as we are novices. Have a sailboat last summer! Mary Gale Buchanon Matthai and Parker had quite a sailing in their 30 foot sloop on Chesapeake Bay this summer. Mary Gale and Parker hoped to be in their new house by Christmas. Did you make it? M.G. is working with elementary grades helping with concepts and duties for the new drug scene as they approach the older years. Wish we had a program like that in all of the schools. Also heard that Sara Barbara Strangmona Donovan quite often. Barbara is teaching Special Ed. in the Baltimore city school system.

Susan Sheriff Kuder and Ernst attended the October Fest in Munich and were planning to ski in New Hampshire in Dec. Are you on the beginners slope also??? good heavens! from you!

From California I heard that Carol Young Godin and Stu were in Washington, D.C. in July and attended the MWC and found our school as beautiful as ever.

Let me see, what have I been doing? I'm no longer with the Scouts, but I'm busy after six months of work. Seriously, I'm going to Iona College and couldn't combine the two. We'll be going to the Caribbean this winter. I'm really busy trying to redecorate our place in Conn., and that's a job. Our boys are 6 and 8 years old. They are busy with Cub Scouts, swimming lessons, ice skating lessons and just being boys.

Let's hear from all of you!
Bye' for now,
Charlene

Happy New Year to all members of the class of '56! May all your hopes and dreams come true in 1973!

Run and get your cup of tea and let's sit by the fire (or on your terrace) and chat a spell about your friends and mine.

We have just returned from a two week visit to Disney World and the warm state of Florida. We loved being there during the holidays. Little Michael (3) was simply delighted with Mickey Mouse, Goody, Donald Duck, Winnie the Pooh, and all of the Disney characters he met. Mark (11) had a big time riding the horses on the Disney World carousel and thought the Haunted Mansion every time mom's head was turned. We all thoroughly enjoyed the Gulf and St. Augustine. We hated to be back home, though, as I look forward to hearing from you and sharing your news with the other members of our class.

Please do not forget to contribute to the MWC Alumni Fund this year. It is my hope that each member will make a special effort to make a contribution regardless of the size. We have a wonderful class and Mary Washington needs our help. I suggest that a contribution in memory of Nancy Seyerstown or any class member now deceased would be appropriate for this time of year. I've sent mine. How about yours?

Beverlee Horton Schoeckert spent last summer traveling to Arizona, Tokyo, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Honolulu. Her children like to swim, camp and play the guitar. Bev and her husband were awaiting orders to move in November so let us know where you are now, Bev.

Emilie Carlin Swartz has three children—all 4 and under! Bet you had a big Christmas, Emilie! Emilie said in her form letter that she filled out that she had 20 free minutes all summer. She sent Lynn, the oldest, to camp and is sending her to nursery school this winter. They like to fish and raise tropical fish. Emilie and Bob live in New Jersey. Those of you in the Paterson area, come by and see Emilie. She needs some adult companionship about nap time, I imagine.

Page Richardson Coulthal and coach husband live in Virginia Beach. They have two children and have traveled to Niagara Falls and Canada recently. Come to see us, Page.

Joanne Thompson Gratton fives in Miami and has four children. The boys are 14, 12, and 11 and Beth is 8 but Beth is slightly spoiled by her brothers and her dad! Girls should be spoiled to a certain degree. Joanne says that Beth takes piano, dancing and is a cheerleader so evidently she is a busy little butterfly. The boys stay busy too—playing football, baseball, tennis, golf. Do you ever see them, Joanne? I bet you really travel around that city of Miami. Perhaps you should go out for roller skating derby so you can keep up with all of them. Joanne and family are Dolphin football team fans and Joanne likes to play tennis. She mentioned the fact that she had been to Fredericksburg to see Miss Mary Ellen Stephenson. Joe was in Maryland last summer to play in a golf tournament. She went to Waynesville, N.C. to be with her mother who is still also this past summer. Two of the boys are in boarding school this winter. Keep in touch, Joanne, and count more from time to time to see if one of your ball players is missing!

A note from Hermie Gross Fox brought news of one of our best classmates, evidently, Joanne Insley Pearre '57 wrote Hermie about one of Joanne's country neighbors in Frederick, Md. Ann Adney Lehnert has been found! Ann shares a baby-sitter with Joanne. She teaches part-time in the Frederick Public School System. Her fourth child and first son was born in January. Congratulations, Ann. Ann's husband is a native Fredericktonian and is an insurance broker. Her three daughters are all in elementary school. Thanks, Joanne and Hermie, for the news. Keep in touch, Ann, please.

Jackie Wilkins Ipp is also busy with two sons, 3 and 1. She and family live in Wallington, Pa. They are in the midst of traveling back and forth from their home and their farm in Maryland since they have a cottage. They are in the initial stages of starting a holly orchard. They travel whenever a baby-sitter is available. They went to Atlantic last January with Sam and Mary Goode Young. Sam has a plane for fast transportation.

I'll have more items to write next time so this column will be continued. Keep in touch and remember that your friends around the world want to hear from you so write a letter today to someone you liked many long years ago in college. You'll love hearing from them and they will be delighted to hear from you. In the meantime, don't forget to write the class agents.

As always,
Kay

Hi Gang,

I decided to write some more news today to my favorite people. So here goes . . . .

Louise Robertson, M.D. stays busy in Richmond. She has bought 2½ acres of poison ivy and bamboo and is doing yard work in her spare time. By now, I bet Louise has more than poison ivy growing—she probably has all kinds of shrubs and flowers in Richmond. She has been to Charleston, S.C. and gave a paper on upper obstruction in children's heart failure. We are so proud of you, Louise! Many best wishes to you in the new year.

Sally Soegmuller Haley is also in Richmond and is helping her husband build a house. It might be completed now, and I hope you were able to move before Christmas. What a spunky gal Sally is these days. Bet you have a lovely home! Send a picture of it for our scrapbook. You should have had MWC Day and let us come and help build it for you!

June Ann Tingler Buie has three children, all boys, and is working as a psychologist for Newport Mesa School District. She spent the summer loafing, swimming, sailing, reading, tennis playing and decorating a new house. Bravo for you, June. Looks like you had a heavy schedule last summer. June has been traveling a lot lately also. Keep in touch, June.

Lou Ann Ashby Steffey sends greetings from Pearl City, Hawaii. Listen to this, gals. Lou Ann and her Lt. Col. husband (USMC) have four children. She stays busy being a Cub Scout den mother and doing all the entertaining she can. They have been in Pearl City for over a year now and would like to hear from you. Their address is 9824 B Aloha Ave. Do write again, Lou Ann, and tell us about all the tourist attractions. For those of you who are planning a trip to Hawaii, stop by and say "Hello" to Lou Ann and her family.

The nicest Christmas greeting I received this year was from Angie Bowen Barksdale. She sent the loveliest picture of her two sons and two daughters. She said she and her family were so extremely busy but loved staying busy. I guess that is the story of all our lives right now. We all stay so busy, but do take out time to write to your class agents. We love to hear from each of you and are extremely interested in sharing your news with other class members. Happy New Year!

Kay

Christmas greetings some news of the class of '57. Seems this is the only time I hear from any of you! Deone Ford Schubach writes that she was visiting friends in the city of Troy, N.Y., this summer. It's a shame that we couldn't have gotten together since we live only across the river! Dean is still on the faculty of the College of the Virgin Islands.

Vicki Majure Souder and three of her four children took a trip South this past summer. She spent a night in Richmond with Betsy Bryan Ware and then went on to Virginia Beach to spend some time with June Watson Rawlings and Lewis. Bruce Ritchie Lawrence, husband Quigg and twins spent a week with Vicki. All that Vickie and children looked great! The Souders went skiing the day after Christmas.

Polly Smith Nelson writes that she is taking advanced Montessori training. Their oldest child, Amy, is in ninth grade and the second, Bruce, is in sixth. Our boys are in the same grades—we are sure getting older!

Barbara Ball Montgomery wrote a long letter. She is very busy with Brownies, Girl Scouts, and Junior Cadet Scouts. She is also very active in the Service League of the Virginia Peninsula serving herself mainly with a pilot project in reading fundamentals. This is a National program with headquarters in the Smithsonian Institute. Barbara is the Arlington chairman.

Received a long note from Jean O'Shaughnessy Lewis. Paul has just been transferred to Northern California after being in Southern California for four years. Paul is now the plant manager for Crown Zellerbach in the San Leandro area. Joan's children are truly lovely from the picture she sent me. Her boy, Mark, is in first grade and is on the swim team. She adds that he is really great and they are beginning to feel like Mr. and Mrs. Spitz! Her little girl is 4½—going to preschool—and a little blonde bombshell! They revisited Hawaii last Spring.

Lo Ann Todd Lawless writes from Denver that Bob Reynolds has just accepted a position as training administrator for United Banks of Denver. Their three children are all in "open School" and are doing very well. She is still teaching Modern Dance and has classes for 70 to 80 students.

Jackie Richard Cullen is living in Colorado Springs and has her Colorado teachers certification.

Betty Ann Nolan Tansill finally wrote me after I spent Hard Nolo and his most of her time playing tennis as well as being Student daughter's Brownie troop. The Tansill's do quite a bit of camping, canoeing and hiking. This past summer they went on a 43 mile canoe trip in the Lands of Canada plus they hiked 25 miles.

This is more news than I have had for a while. I do wish that some of you would come out of hiding and drop me a line. Even with all the broken bones last winter, the Guest boys are up on the top of the mountains racing down! I wish their mother had the courage—I just knit in the lodge. I never was very athletic!

Catherine Wright Gadd writes of the birth of daughter Sondra Diane on April 28, 1971 and the adoption of Margaret (Catherine's daughter by another marriage) was final on October, 1972.

Hello!

The mailman did a good job this time. I received several nice letters. Pat Alvis Ahrens and Bob are in Leesburg, Va. Bob practices law while Pat is busy with three children and the usual housewifely duties. Last summer they had fun camping in New England and also around Cape Hatteras.

Fron Karins Updike writes . . . "Wish I had something new—just enjoy the usual. Three of our 4 children are in school and number 4 is in nursery school three mornings a week. This freedom allows me a few hours each week to pursue my activities consisting of playing tennis, oil-painting classes and selling Real Estate. We all anticipate the approach of winter as we enjoy many hours of family skiing. My main community involvement is a girls' camp sponsored by our YWCA. It's a camp run for all girls in the community and provides a campership program for needy children. As co-chairman, my winter and spring months are spent with programs planning and counselor recruitment at nearby colleges. It's fascinating work, especially the visiting of college campuses—haven't found one yet that compares with MWC! I'm looking forward to our 5th reunion and plan to bring my entire family. I hope many of our classmates return. Can you believe the location of our class news in "MWC Today"? I used to look on the back page and now must leaf through to the middle!! Begin to see you in April.

Mary Lou Morris Wolsey sent a very newsy letter . . . . "We spent the past academic year in Tempe, Ariz. where Wayne did research in the chemistry dept. at Arizona State Univ. We were able to do a lot of sight-seeing and took the children on a nice trek into Mexico in April after I sent my dissertation off to the readers. Those two three-year-olds really prove that one should begin a language early. They both picked up enough Spanish to order some things in restaurants. Sesame Street helps on that score.

At the end of the year Wayne was in the throes of finishing up a research project when something exploded as he was working in a closed unit (dry-box) and he had severe damage to his left hand. All in all he was a lucky guy . . after four operations, skin grafts and the ring finger partially amputated. He did get his long-awaited promotion to Associate Professor of Chemistry at Macalester College.

I took my oral exam in May and on June 12, 1972 I was awarded the Ph.D. in French by the Univ. of Minnesota. Now I can sit home and enjoy the children without pangs of conscience. I'm not working or looking for a job until the children are in public school. Then I may return to teaching French, if there is an opening. My dissertation is a critical study of a French twelfth-century romance which is non-Arthurian, called Fruele by Gautier d'Arras.

While the children and I were visiting my folks in Richmond this summer, I took a brief visit to Va. Beach and saw Ann Pegram Gregory and her lovely family. Their newest addition, Matthew, (born in Feb. 1972) is adorable. Ann is busy with her three fine boys. The nice home David, her husband, designed is fabulous.

"Chick" Holder is still teaching Spanish in Fort Myers, Fla. high schools. She went on a tour of the British Isles this past summer and has a home of her own in North Fort Myers.

Give my regards to any of our classmates. Have a good year. I really wish class reunions could be held at the end of the school year instead of in April. I really would like to make it to our fifteenth. Oh well . . . . "

Many thanks to all of you who sent the questionnaires back. My typing isn't too good, but I'll try to get them typed the best I can. I am expecting to see many of you in April.

Bye for now,
Jean Lee

Hello,

I received two notes this time. Susannah Godlove had a great vacation. She writes: "I spent a week at Betty Gould Storms and Bob in Ankara, Turkey. Bob is a Lt. Col. in the Army. Their children, Susan, age 13, and Robert, age 11, will be well traveled after three years in Turkey. We all toured Turkey in an International Harvester (bumpy ride) and also parts of Greece, the high point being Athens. Carol Lehtonin, who attended MWC two years, '56-'57, was also us for the trip. We parted in Istanbul, she for Paris, and I returned to the USA on June 30. Betty and Bob have now living in Izmir. I will be visiting them again in 1973. I recently visited in Nashville, Tenn. There they have built a duplicate of the Parthenon in Greece. There is no other full sized replica of the building. Both are very impressive! I hope to attend the Homecoming in April.

Another note from Judith Townsend Gatlin. She writes: I am in my fifth year as assistant professor of English at Queens. Last year the college nominated me for inclusion in Outstanding Educators of America, the 1972 edition, and in the spring my husband and I were joint winners of the Charlotte English-Speaking Union Fellowship for study in England. We were thus able to study the inter-relationship of literature and art in 18th Century England for six weeks this summer at the University of London.

I am looking forward to seeing many of you the end of April. Please keep those cards and letters coming in. Thanks so much.

Hello there! So glad it is news time again! And away we go! That's an old one!

When I saw Carol Pridgen Gill this Fall, she told of a great reunion in C'ville with Barbara Buche Barker, Dale Buhrman Boice, Ann Coddy Morgan, Dale Harris Leahy and Peggy Clark Bidwell. A good time was had by all! News received that Jaon Query is now Mrs. Robert Rash and living in Charlotte, N.C. Lucanne Henson Hafner and family are in Korea now. They live in a suburb of Seoul. Fascinating is the word from Lucanne and quite an experience for the children. Celeste Shipman Kaufman sends word that Alan's sandwich shop business is doing so well. They have expanded to 22 shops. The children are fine, too, Jeff is much involved with basketball, football and golf. Julie likes music and gymnastics and Penny has much responsibility in nursery school. In her spare time "Pug" is a roommother and helps Alan with the books, plus, she plans to devote one day a week working with spastic children. "Pug" also bumped into Ann Rodobaugh Wright and her five boys! They looked wonderful and all were enjoying swimming and golf.

Heard from Doris Stiller Eagle. She, Jim and the children are at Langley now. In the last few years they have traveled from Florida to Okinawa. David is interested in drama, while Beta is the typical young teen. And then there is Christopher! Doris enjoys selling real estate. She has seen Betty Mitchell Warren quite often. Betty has two boys and has returned to school to finish her last year at Stratford to be a teacher.

Patricia Gray Proulx sent a picture of her lovely new home. Decorating is really keeping her busy. Carmen Culpepper Chappell and family enjoyed spending Christmas in Puerto Rico, for at least three glorious weeks! Lois Gaylord Allen and H. G. are still awaiting their children. They were looking forward to some family visiting at Christmas. And are also planning some ski weekends in the near future. H. G. is president of the local teachers' assoc. this year and that is taking much time. Mary Jamison Gwinn wrote about many enthusiastic holiday plans. Cathy is getting over mononucleosis with energy to help. One project they worked on earlier was enclosing the porch and making a sun room. Sigrid Stanley Lackman wrote that they made a trip to Nagshead and Houston and they plan New Orleans in March. As I write this, Judy Gray at Rhodes Johnson's! One really fun thing the Jackman's did was attend a surprise birthday party for Shelly Cohen Mand in Wilmington, Del. And it was all prepared by Shelly's husband! How's that for spoiling, girls?

Julia Cootes Littlefield said hello to everyone and wished happiness to them New Year! Marcie Phipps Ireland has a new address! They have purchased a 100 year old home, a Victorian farmhouse, a much fun gift to play around with for architect, Gary. They are really excited about it and plan many happy hours in redecorating, etc. It's in a little old town by the name of Pottsgrove, Pen, N.J. Priscilla Brown Wardlaw is still very active as pres. of her prep school alum. assoc. She remarked again what a great time they and the Littlefields had this summer. "Pete" also sees Sally Steinmetz frequently. Sally continues to teach P.E. in jr. high school. "Pete" also plays golf with Barbara Fredel. Barbara is working on her masters now.

Ann Watkins Reeves enclosed her annual news letter with her card. Bob is working on his pilot's instrument license. Ann continues to teach four-year-olds and works as Asst. Super. at Sunday School, plus attends gardening school. Their children are quite active. Bruce enjoys band and piano, David is an avid enthusiast and Linda loves acrobatics. They have had lots of family visiting this year. The children went to Scout camp and Church camp during the summer. And they all made a trip to San Antonio. Joan Estes Wolonson remarked that Hurricane Agnes left much damage, but took in six people who were homeless. One sad note, Joan's father passed away. Joanie has spoken to Chrystene Bing Klar. "Gene" sent word that Mary Crosland Lehfeldt and family are in Thailand. And Carol Doehler Leonard and family are in Conn. Joanie likes teaching sixth and feels it a very busy attorney. Wendy and Blake are scouts, musicians and sports lovers. They have been on quite a few trips, namely, the Barbados, Chicago, Key Biscayne, and Denver. In the future they plan to go to New Zealand, Australia and Tahiti, hopefully in March. Whew! Need I say more?

Hurrah! Hurrah! Irene Piscopo Rodgers and Don are headed this way. Yes, it's true! To Mobile. Yea, yea! I can hardly wait to see them. Now it will be catching. Let me recap some of their '72 for you. In January they made a trip to D.C. and saw Nancy Brewer McCarthy and Patricia Huntley Osisek. Then onward to Va. Beach. In February Irene had a great ski week in Aspen, Colo., a gift from Don. Come May we find them in Europe, mostly in Malta, the Netherlands and Greece. In the summer Don's mother visited. Then they all charged off to Calif. with their two nieces and visited Don's bachelor brother. Eureka! Four women in one bachelor kitchen! While in Calif. they saw the usual tourists' sights--Disney World, Marineland, Busch Gardens, etc. In November they attended a biology convention in St. Louis. At this meeting Irene gave her first professional paper, though she has co-authored several. Congratulations! Irene has returned to full time work though she spends most of her time consulting and now is working on Optical X-ray Spectrometry and Diffraction. This coming August they will be having their E-M. meeting in New Orleans and there lies the way to Mobile. Don by the way is lecturing at the Univ. of Puerto Rico at this time.

We find Eleanor Markham Old and family in Lancaster, Pa. Arthur is a systems analyst now and has his private pilot's license. They took a trip to Toronto over Easter vacation and a lot of their time recently has been spent moving. Jimmy was a little upset about the Big Move because of leaving all his friends but he is doing fine now. He makes new ones. Moving day was timed beautifully with Hurricane Agnes. They had 37 in. of water in their new home. So excited to say, the movers didn't arrive until the next day. They made another trip to North Carolina and their other excitement was Jimmy's hospitalization with asthma. All is well now.

Marden Ireland Bell found to her surprise she resides only a few blocks from Jane Philip Chapman. Aren't the two boys. Marden has also heard from Sharon Henry Schafer and they plan a get together. The Bell home in Silver Spring on Bridge Rd. was won quite a few ribbons. Mom even participated in a 35 mile competitive trail ride which she will never forget! Sharon took two trips to Lake Louise, Canada and Acapulco. Their favorite sport however is still skiing. Genie Ellis Perkins says they plan to be in Conn. for at least another 2 or 4 years. They have a new Dodge Maxisport and have really had some great times in it. They made a trip to Mo. and to Texas. Later Genie joined Bob in London and they managed a trip to Scotland, too. Bob will be taking command of the USS Iroquois, a nuclear frigate, early spring so he has been very busy in Officers' school. Deb is in the 8th grade now and doing well. She especially enjoys horseback riding. Robert is fond of athletics, as most boys his age: John is in the 1st grade and Mary is in nursery school. She is planning some swimming lessons this summer. Genie takes piano, is interested in bowling, and likes needlework and macrame.

Edith Weber Staib said hello and all is well. Ann Brooks Papadatos also has a new home, close to school for the kids. Everything is fine with them. She has heard from Lunnie and Judy Gourley Kamishlan. Judy is in Endwell, N.Y. and has two boys and a girl. Gerry Jenks Winston has returned to teaching home ec. and it really keeps her on the run with the two boys. A newsy letter from Marianne Carona Raphacly. She is Treasurer of the N.J. Chapter. They had a Christmas luncheon. "Kitten" Swoffin Howard and Phyllis Hartleb Rowley attended. Marianne and Ralph visited this summer in Va. Beach while Russ was staff consultant at Portsmouth Naval. She also saw Jane Vaught this summer, in Newport, R.I. Jane is still teaching. Chris is fine and in the third grade, another sports minded youngster, especially football and swimming. Jim loves kindergarten. Russ is now Director of the Intensive Care Unit. They let off steam with tennis. Marianne is also pres. of the doctor's wives group at the annex of the P.T.A. In February the Raphelys and another couple had a wonderful time in Montego Bay. In the summer they went to Bar Harbor, Maine. It is breathtaking. They have also been on the ski lifts in New Hampshire and in November went to Toronto. They plan Disney World this summer.

Barbara Gordon Organ is decorating their house busily and sends the message that Bob Donnelly Elam says Dave Alexhauser Beto is in Indiana. Dud y'all get that? Jim Organ is at the Pentagon now, working in the Sec. of the Navy's Office. They like being back in the D.C. area. Shirley Mauldin Gibson had a son in August.

Kay Rowe Hayes teaches horseback riding and accompanied the Girl Scouts on their camping trip. Karen enjoys tumbling, and Tommy is in nursery school. Kay took on the job of managing maintenance, new equipment, and scheduling mother's helpers at the school. She also belongs to the League of Women. Don has to travel a lot but they all love football time. Kay talks to Emily Bobb Carpenter often. Jane Tucker Broadbooks wrote the big excitement this year was Jon's tonsilectomy. Jane finished her interior design course. They all went to Gatlinburg, Tenn. in April. John stays quite busy with his landscaping and land planning consultant firm in Clemson. He travels frequently and serves as judge on many committees. They have enjoyed much swimming, boating and hiking this summer. They also went to Mich., Lakes Superior and Huron and Toronto. They visited relatives in the Adirondacks. Jane works with Sunday School and is on the Day School Board of Education. One fun thing they found two flying squirrels, much to Jane's delight.

Audrey Dubetsky Doyle wrote they plan to be back in the good old U.S.A. in October. Mary Ford and Downings says they had a fabulous time in Chincoteague, Va. and also made a visit to eastern Canada and Plymouth, Mass. Boy, the old WWC grads really get around. This reads like a travelogue! Allison likes dancing and gymnastics and has even been on TV. What a big girl! She saved money for her own skis. And Stefan's letter to Santa Claus was a unique. They managed a stop by the old campus with Sally Bryson Nichols this summer. Old memories! And fun times! Ann Hortis Hunter's family has been doing much canoeing, especially around the Okala National Forest in Florida. Well, the Trudeaus are the same. A quiet Christmas. Much time spent in teaching, as usual, and attending class at Southern. That next time. Thanks so much for all the news on your cards.

Love,
Edna

Hi, All,

How special I regard the pictures, cards and notes from you. I am glad you write that you enjoy our class news. Knowing that helps me to gather the needed discipline to sit and pull this column together. There are few newcomers to the news in my pile of '73 is that you each scout out someone by mail, phone or travel, and send in a couple of lines. There really is interest and caring within our class, and we should try and feed these special feelings. Please note my new post office box number above.

Carolyn Cook Robertson resides in Boca Raton, Fla. and is a busy, happy homemaker and the mother of three children. She would like to be in touch with Carolyn Crum Pannu of nearby Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.) The Robertson's new son is announced under "Births" elsewhere in this issue. Carolyn's husband and children spent Christmas in Illinois with her family while husband Singh was called home to India. Soon after Singh's arriving, Carolyn had a call from Pat Scott Peck saying that she had just returned from her Dad's funeral in Richmond. Pat, we send our deepest sympathy to you and your family.

There were several interesting trips reported in my Christmas cards. Judy Saunders Sifer and Bob took their planned European Holiday in October, and sent two notes about the fine American hostesses they encountered. A day-and-a-half was spent with Jane Riles Wamsley and Bill in Lyon, France, and then on to Paris for a brief visit with twin sister Eleanor Saunders Sunderland, Bruce and family who were scheduled to move to London in January for a two year stay. Judy and Bob sent a grand picture taken of them in the Swiss Alps. "Picnics with wine, cheese and bread." Sure sounded like a great trip, Judy!

Enthusiastic about an incentive trip won by husband, Dick, was Ann Hopkins Burroughs of Los Angeles, Calif. Their December journey was to Macuto, Venezuela. Ann wrote that they loved the country, people and seafood. Side trips were made to Isla Margarita and Caracas and part of the fun was brushing up on her Spanish. Ann is again taking pottery lessons and loving every minute, which brings back memories of WWC and our marvelous pottery class with Miss Joan Orloff. Say, does anyone know Miss Orloff's whereabouts? Ann attended an AWC luncheon in January honoring Museum with Dr. Daniel Woodward as the guide. Nancy Wright Wright and Sue Woodruff were there. Ann has learned that Lynne Wilson lives nearby. When you gals meet again, you are bound to come up with a few items for us to share.

With all the moving that takes place, these few have been noted. In Virginia, Frank and Marie Butler Skalski and young son Christopher are enjoying their new home in Springfield, and near Richmond is Pat Gorvin Dyke '60 whose new home was opened in early December for a Christmas tour. Pat noted "nothing like a deadline to make one get the work done." I sure wish I'd been there for the tour, Pat. I'll bet everything was beautiful.

A lovely picture card of the two handsome Searby boys arrived from Grace Marie Fisher Searby '60 and Fred from Chesterfield, Va. I'd like both Grace Marie's and Pat's addresses. Try and remember those return addresses, gang! My last word from Grace Marie was two years ago from Paris, France. It is remarkable how so many of you get around the globe. Diane Delamar Madigo '60, Ben and infant adorable Jennifer (10), Kirk (8) and Douglas (6) also moved last year, and Diane writes that she still enjoys her work as the Pediatric Dietitian at the Stanford University Medical Center. The family loves to ski and last winter Douglas broke his leg, only to be on the slopes again before Christmas. Diane adds, "WWC, Va. and New England seem far away." Wanting to head to the Southwest are Jean Ryan Farrell and family. Frank is due for transfer soon, and as they prepare to leave West Point they hope their orders will head them in that direction.

Candice Parker Chumney is on the move with her volunteer efforts. She is the Regional Director for the Metropolitan Opera National Council Regional Auditions in the Virginia area for 1973. With the job, she and husband Pat have enjoyed some free travels to auditions in El Paso, Tex., Santa Fe, N.M., and New York City.

Who else out there is studying? A big "Hurrah" for Cindy Scott Morcook who is to receive her RN from the Univ. of Toledo soon. A beautiful family portrait of Cindy, Woody, Debbie and Scott was a real treat. I last saw Cindy in Northern Germany when Debbie was a baby. Lucky!

Gene England Simons and husband Harrison sent another lovely Holiday letter written in verse. Gene is home in Oxford, N.C. Gene is teaching ballet three days a week and has an adult ballet room class as well. With two active children and Harrison's demanding medical minister, Gene has an interesting schedule at home, church and family responsibilities.

In New Jersey, Lynne Williams is excited about having a new position with Pan Am. Lynne writes, "I am Senor Financial Analyst—whatever that means. (Senior always meant old to me.) I couldn't be happier to get out of computers and use some of that economics I studied at MWC." We are delighted for you, Lynne, and hope that this new responsibility won't cut down on your travels. Penny Hamilton and Mary Alice Ivey '60 each keep in touch from New York, and are keeping busy.

On a very rushed Thanksgiving weekend, I discovered while shopping in Salem that Pam Kingston Anderson '62 of Holmdel, N.J. is a short ten minutes from my sister, Joanne, in Marlboro, N.J. A telephone call to Pam, who has three children and whose husband Jim, commutes to NYC, and I learned that Phyllis Berry Schwartz is close by as well. Cathy Ledner Kuttner '61 of Englewood, N.J., and many more of you are located in that general vicinity. How about some news from you? Pam, Of Course, and help Phyllis put a column together.

Renee Skinner Wheeler and Skip of the USAF at Kinchen, are proud new owners of a 21 foot camper, which is so popular today. Renee says, "With three kids and two dogs, we find it a great way to travel." When not working or shopping, the Wheelers are enjoying the sport of snow mobiling. Lillian McNerney Arce and family are getting ready to enjoy some March weather after they have purchased. With summer approaching and vacations at hand, please travel or play safe and then let us know of your adventures.

Thanks again to Connie Booth Logothetis for her encouragement and the adorable picture of Elaine and Michael, and to Cory Tilton Doyle '60 for the fantastic photograph of the Doyles and the ocean from their terrace at Hillsboro Beach, Fla. Here's hoping I get back down for more sun and fun. In the meantime, I'm adding to my MWC album and loving every happy memory.

Enjoy 1973!

Peggy

Hi Everyone,

Happy New Year to you all! This is my Christmas card column" when I have lots of news, so here goes. One of the first cards received was from Eleanor Knight Jensen and Cliff. He was transferred from Charleston, West Va., to NYC and they have bought a townhouse at 46 Phelps Avenue, New Brunswick, N.J. 08901. Eleanor is still with Union Carbide as a Technical Service Representative for Linde in East Brunswick. Hope you enjoy the excitement of the Big City, Eleanor! Living near enough to NYC (in Milford, N.J.) is what I have done by the "one and only" Kenneth in Bev Carlson Shea—she really did have it done and "loved every pampered minute of it!" How many points did you take of the end result, Bev? We loved the picture of your darling towheaded Dan who is three feet tall at 18 months. Mrs. Shea was in a bad car accident but fortunately received only a gash on his forehead. The Sheas' biggest news is that they are building a house in Greenwich Valley below Bethlehem, Pa. and plan to move this spring (new address: R.D. 4, Quarter Mile Rd., Bethlehem, Pa. 18015).

Another "New Yorker" is Pam Ritzert Correll who lives in Stony Brook, L.I. They bought a 22 ft. boat last summer and buzz over to Conn. in 20 minutes, sleep out, and have a grand time. Her three children keep her busy, but she still finds time to take graduate courses in psych—three more courses and she'll have her master's! Pam's former roomie, Jean Ryon Farrell, and Frank are spending their last year at West Point, NY. For more than ever, Jean has been substitute teaching two or three days a week, but admits that if the ski conditions are good her whole career may come to a sudden halt! My mother had a lovely visit with Jean in October when she visited West Point one weekend. Speaking of skiing, Peggy Howard Hodgkins did it again with her entire family this year—a lovely scene of their two boys with skis and lots of snow up there in Wilton, Maine! Her husband Dave is head of the ski school at Farmington if anyone wants some lessons! Thanks for your news and cards.

Moving down the East Coast again, I received a card from Phyllis Pierce Schwartz from Morganville, N.J., who says she is now enjoying life as a good column about herself, but would rather write about others . . . hint—drop her a line, you all! Sara Prastenmeier Hoban wrote that she and Anne Henneessy Via bumped into one another in Gimbel's (Philly area) and were amazed that they recognized each other after 12 years. I hope we haven't changed that much! Anyway, they had a nice chat and planned to get together sometime after the holidays to compare notes. Anne and Charles live in Cherry Hill, N.J. Sara and Dwight live in Marlton, N.J. and love their woods. Besides Cindy (Tish, Scott (7), and Randy (4), Sara keeps busy with "the usual", including rock painting. A new swimming pool in Marlton is not far from Wilmington, Del. where Barbara Upson Graviely lives. Her children are certainly cute—Meg (6) and Bobby (3). Life on the Severn River at Annapolis seems to agree with Carlotta Croghan Clark. She is teaching school this year, part time at private school there called Wroxeter-on-Severn. She's teaching chemistry (a biology major!) and it has really kept her busy but she enjoys it. Both her children (Brian (7) and Margaret (4) go there too and all are very happy. Joan Gibson Lippold, living in Crofton, Md. in the Annapolis area, is teaching and going to graduate school at night, plus keeping up with their two girls. Many thanks for your news!

Of course, I received from my suite mate, Clara Sue Durden Ashley, who writes from McLean, Va. that she and Clarence are planning to go skiing near Innsbruck, Austria, in Feb. on "Ski Weekend" with the State Dept.! Sounds just great, especially if they can meet Janie (Riles) and Bill Waddell there! Also, we note from Sylvia McAlister Woodcock says they're all fine in Williamsburg, but that she hated to be so far from Dallas, Texas, where her parents and sister, Joan Owens, was married to Robert Powledge Smith on Dec. 16th! Best wishes to you, Judy! Sylvia also said that Moreia Minton Leech, Bill and three children are still living in Little Rock, Ark. Mary Hostetler is still busy working and living in Fayetteville, N.C.

From sunny Florida comes news from Carolyn Crum Pannu saying how much they are enjoying their first house—on one square acre—in country setting but so close to Orlando (Carolyn is an ophthalmologist). Christmas found Singh off to India on family business and so Carolyn took Kara and Raj Singh to Illinois. She also sent one of the rarest of loss of Pat Scott Peck's father. We all extend our deepest sympathy to you, Pat. I'll take this time to express my thanks to all of you who wrote to me concerning my father's death. It means so much to know you care—thank you.

News of a new baby was a pleasant surprise when Patty Cairns Hourin's card arrived! Scott was born Nov. 2, 1972, and joins Michael (9½) and Bill (7½) in celebrating Christmas in their new home at 2366 Beck St., New Orleans, La. 70114. Congratulations to you, Patty and Jim. Patty's brother Doug and Dee Doran Cairns are still in Dayton, Ohio, where Dee is substitute teaching a lot and taking some graduate ed. courses to catch up with Patty. Patty is still quite involved with Girl Scouts which she enjoys so much. Again, as last year, Dee's card was a special card with a prayer for the POW's and MIA's. Let's hope that this would be the last year for those cards. Are there any classmates of ours who have a husband or relative who is a POW-MIA? If so, we should know about her and try to help somehow.

Pepper Jacobs Germer sent her newsy Christmas letter and I was shocked to read of the fire they had last Jan. 17 (1972) which destroyed the attic and top of their lovely house in Texas City. Fortunately, they all awoke and got out of the house safely and the arrangements in an apartment while the house was rebuilt, they moved back into their lovely "new" house. Pepper is teaching kindergarten and has 24 little ones, in addition to her own two, Alicia (7) and Richard (4), both red heads! She also sings in a Sweet Adelines quartet which competed against quartets from the four states in their region during a weekend in Houston. She says they are novices but I'm sure they are great to hear! In July and August their family went on a 3,000 mile trek through New Mexico and Colorado, their first experience at camping. They ended up at a motel every third night so they could bathe! Thanks for your letter.

From our classmates in California comes news from Pat Pollock McFarland in Costa Mesa. She sent a great family photo—you look terrific, Pat! She says all is super there. She's teaching, skiing, and redecorating in between taking to Girl Scouts (Kelly (7)), basketball (Rusty (9), church school and youth activities. Sarah Leigh and Tom Kinberg are still in Stockton, Calif. and keep life moving at a fast pace. Sarah has to give up her track shoes for roller skates in hopes that the extra speed will help her keep up with son Tommy who will soon be a Boy Scout (among other things) and daughter Sarah Leigh age 9 who apparently didn't pass up a single sign-up sheet this fall! Tom is still with the FBI and Sarah has retired from teaching French Cooking but is taking other cooking classes for occupational therapy. Your letter was usual, had me in stitches, Sarah, thanks! And Linda Lange Seal has become very active in their Lucas Valley (near San Rafael) Homeowners Assoc. which started to tax themselves extra money in order to buy their surrounding hills so that developers couldn't devour them. She says they believe they are the first group of about 700 families in the nation to do such a thing (for ecology—Bravo, Linda! The Senfs vacationed in Yosemite in Oct. and then went to Disneyland after Xmas for the boys' annual visit. She spent most of '72 working on their new home, never realizing she could enjoy gardening so much!

Back in Boston, I received a long newsy letter from Grohom Walker Burns. I can see why we haven't heard from her recently—she and Bud have four children, their adopted daughter Carol (5), and their natural-born sons, Lee 4, Jim 2, and Graham born July 11, 1972. Wow! I wish I could report all the antecdotes about her 2-year-old who goes strong from 5:30 AM til 8:30 PM (NO NAP!) Besides, Graham manages to work with the Junior League and writes and photographs for their community monthly magazine. Bud is an assistant vice-president in the Provident Mutual Accident Insurance Co. in Chattanooga. The family went to Gulf Shores, Ala. in Aug. for a vacation, on the way to which she found out how long eternity will be! She thinks about many MWC friends, and would love news of Sue Ayres, Pete Whitehead, Lynn Owens and others. Graham's address is 121 W. Watkins, Lookout Mountain, Tenn., 37350. Thanks so much for writing—it was great to hear from you!

We've now made our swing around the country and my last news is from here in Hershey. Lynn Mowday is trying to take the travel laurels away from Lynn Williams and Prudie Shepard—she had an absolutely marvelous trip to the Philippines, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Singapore) in the spring and now has the travel bug. She plans another trip this year, to South America! I think she can start a trip over here to Louisville from Frankfort where she has a great job with the Dept. of Child Welfare. I met a co-worker of hers at an AAUW tea here. I talked with Margie Lanhom Roberts who lives here in L'ville, and she says that Patsy Hilgartner Bruckner is the Registrar at MWC! As of July 1st, Patsy Hilgartner Bruckner did become Registrar and also Director of Financial Aid at MWC. Not only that, but Patsy is Vice President for chapters of the MWC Alumni Assoc., and also keeps up with their house and two pre-school boys and a new foster daughter Chris who is 4 years old! Patsy's husband John teaches at MWC and finished his Ph.D. at U.Va. which included a trip to Vienna, Austria to gather material for his dissertion. Congratulations on your new positions, Patsy! Before this she worked part time as an admissions counselor. Margie also passed on the news that Julie Davis taught in Peru for a mining company, returned to the USA and taught in Baltimore before marrying lawyer David Charles Duchey in August 1971. They now live in Statesgardsville, Va. (near C-ville) and have a new baby boy, Thomas Edward, born Dec. 19 of 1972. Since hospital she saw Denny Minor Mayer '62 feeding her first baby! Congratulations to all.

We had a lovely visit from my mother here at Thanksgiving and she spent Christmas in Germany with my brother. She also hopes to see Janie Riles Wamsley in Lyon, France! Janie has finally tried skiing in the French Alps! Andy and I plan a ski trip to Crested Butte, Colo. Feb. 3-10 and are excited about it. My next deadline is May 10th, so please drop any one of us some news by then. Bye for now.

Hello again. Received two very nice notes and a letter forwarded to me by Dr. Laura Sumner. Many thanks to Dr. Sumner for sending me Liz Goldblatt Shapiro's letter.

Liz and Bruce were married when Liz was finishing MWC and Bruce was graduating from Quantico. They are now stationed at the Marine Air Station, Kaneohe, Hawaii, and have been there two years. Bruce had been in Vietnam twice and now is communication electronics officer for a technical, non-flying squadron.

Bruce and Liz have four children: Leslie, 9, Heather and Matthew, and we do not have the fourth name—sorry, Liz.

Liz has been attending the University of Hawaii, taking Chinese History (1970-1971) and Ancient Chinese History from Classical Antiquity to 750 BC has been accepted into graduate school, but will not receive a degree in Chinese History because two years of Chinese are required, and she has not passed, one house and four children to care for, it would be impossible time wise. So she will receive a degree in Chinese History—she had taken Russian courses since graduation. Sounds as if you are one busy lady. Again, thanks to Dr. Sumner for sharing her letter with me.

Carolyn Johnson Middleton wrote that she is the mother of two children, John, 5, and Laura, 4. Her husband John heads a law firm in Washington, D.C. Prior to having children, she worked as an administrative assistant at the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation (which funds research and other activities for the mentally retarded). Carolyn recently visited here with Julie English Lee. Julie and her husband Ben have two children and a home in San Diego, Calif. Ron is with the Navy. Thank you, Carolyn, and would love to hear some news from the West Coast sometime.

Debbie Delo Meloney says she and Jim are still working "full speed ahead" in their business and now have nine people working in the office. Glad your business is doing so well. Write us more about it, Debbie. When the Meloneys' first child, Laura, arrived in 1969, Debbie continued her part of the business at home in the den; but when Kirk arrived in 1970, they built her a proper office at home. Jim says her office is nicer than any other office, "but then who else needs the washer, dryer, playroom, TV, etc., in their office area?" Laura now goes to a Montessori preschool kindergarten while Kirk stays home.

Debbie talked with Jane Hires Cadwallader while she was there from Elmira, N.Y. this summer visiting her folks in Wilmington. Jane is busy with her home, husband, two boys and the Junior League in Elmira.

As for me, am busy keeping up with all the Taylors. Kate is in third grade,

Rob in second, Patrick attends kindergarten and Matthew watches Captain Kangaroo (so he doesn't feel left out). Koren Howieson Tripp just moved into this area; we talked on the phone and plan to see each other soon.

Write when you can.

Fondly,
Pat

Hi!

Had a nice letter from Sue Huntzberger Stauffer in the fall. Kenny is Vice Pres. and Director of Sales of the Gresh Corp., a construction firm in the Pottstown, Pa. area. Sue says the firm has been especially busy due to the terrible flooding from Hurricane Agnes. He is also on the Board of Directors of the Jaycees. Sue keeps busy (how does she do it all!) working with the Junior Women's Club, decorating the house her husband builds, being a teacher's aide in remedial reading (last year), doing macrame and selling her work and taking care of Lisbeth Sue, 9, and Holly, 7. Lisbeth Sue has become very interested in art and has won several awards for her work. Peggy Boylor Stutt's son Sam, 2, should have a brother or sister by now. They are living in Petersburg. Let us hear from you, Peggy. And thanks for your letter, Sue.

Linda Vogt Musselman had Leigh, 6, in the hospital this fall with an infection which followed chicken pox. That, plus teaching, plus taking her comprehensive exams for her master's in Jan. have kept her hopping. Kathy Friedman Levinson writes that they are finally settled in Richmond and Sandy is enjoying his work on the staff at MCV. See you at Homecoming, Kath.

Had a Christmas card from Fran Ryan Myers, Charley, Ann, Frank and Joe. They are now living in Niagara Falls, N.Y. Charley is deputy district engineer in Buffalo and they are living in government quarters. The kids love it—"lots of playmates and snow." They are planning a long trip through Canada this summer. Thanks for all the cards and letters. Hope to see you all at our big 10th reunion! Seems impossible!

"B"

Sorry to have missed last issue but hope I can be more efficient in '73, the year of our big 10th reunion! Mark your calendars for April 13-15 and let's try to have a big turnout.

The Alumni Office sent a bit of news they had received from Linda Wood Cranston whose first child, Elizabeth, is now about nine months old. Linda writes that Luanne Hahton Parsons, whose husband, Tom Parsons, died in September 1969, was remarried on September 23, 1971 to Daniel Newell. They live in Newport News. Also, Linda Sharples Hughes, whose husband was killed in Vietnam in 1968, was remarried in January '70 to Jerry Parsley and they live in Short Hills, N.J. I'm sure all of you join me in wishing these girls much happiness, and thanks for writing, Linda.

Regretfully, our San Diego MWC Alumni Chapter folded last September. Our last meeting was held at the home of Alice "Julie" English Lee '62 and it was fun seeing her again. Julie's husband is in the Navy and they have been in San Diego for a couple of years with their son and daughter.

Christmas brought the majority of my news and I do appreciate your notes and letters. Cathy Foster Wilde said that she and Hal had spent an evening in Los Angeles, Calif., with Susan Woodward Kilborn and Peter. The Kilborns will be returning to New York City this spring.

I can't believe that my two years in Los Angeles have passed so quickly! Susan called me one day last fall and I learned that they have adopted a four-year-old son who was bringing daily new joys to their lives. Cathy and Hal still live in Mission Viejo, Calif. with their children, Sarah and David. Cathy also mentioned that George and Betsy Lorino Robbins have moved to 92 Leroi Dr. in Pittsfield, Mass. 01201. Is George still with GE, Betsy?

Mary A. Settle Johnson and husband Bob are now living in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. where he is with the Division of Youth Services and she is the librarian at a junior high. Mary A. hinted that they may be having a family addition this summer. Be sure to let us know, Mary A.

Betty Ash Dunbauld and Bill are still in the Hartford, Conn. area. Betty said she had called a boat-owner Chapman and they planned to get together during the holidays. Jeanne Chabot Walls included a long letter in her Christmas card and they have had quite a year. Tommy and Bobby are in 3rd and fourth grades now and both are active in Cub Scouts and take piano lessons. Jeanne says Tommy is the family scholar and Bobby the athlete. David is now 3½ and goes to nursery school. Jeanne and Wally are both involved with scouting and she also is working as a teacher aide. In addition to keeping up with their normal activities, the Wallises did a bit of traveling during the past year: three days in January last February, Disneyworld, Florida in June (along with hurricane Agnes) and then on to Freeport, Bahamas for several days. After Freeport, Jeanne says they came home long enough to do their laundry and then went to Ocean City, Md. for a week. July found them in Michigan and in August they went to Nags Head, N.C. for a few days. After all of this, in November, Jeanne and Wally went to Barcelona, Spain with a side trip to Madrid and loved every minute of it. To quote Jeanne, "My college Spanish I limped through finally came in handy. Needless to say, we left the kids home on that one. After being stuck home with kids for ten years it's really great to get around a little bit." I'm sure they do get around, but I guess that is the advantage of working for an airline.

My roomies seem to be travelers as Barbara Zweberger Offenberger got around quite a bit this past year also. To quote her Christmas letter, "The Offermans have gone through the past year at quite a pace. February found us off to a super 'ski-oriented' meeting at Park City, Utah. We were home long enough to repack before Steven and I left for an overdue (but all too short) trip to Virginia. In June Bob and I managed to escape to Carmel, Calif. for a few exciting days at the U.S. Open. Our annual summer jaunt to Lake Tahoe was followed by a sail on the Trinket—down the coast to Oxnard, Marina del Rey, Newport and Catalina. We were also present when the Western Orthopedic Association convened in Houston, Tex. in October." Barbara also writes that Steven started kindergarten this year and loves it. Barbara volunteers some of her time at his school in addition to tennis lessons and Las Atletas (Assistance League).

Rosalie "Dino" Moyer Schwarz also included a long letter at Christmas time. Gene has spent the past year on Okinawa while Ding supervised the building of their home in Springfield. She moved in in May with four-year-old Andy and had things pretty well settled by September when Gene came home for a two week visit. He came home for good in February and will be stationed at HQMC so they should be in the D.C. area for two or three years.

I also received a Christmas card from dear Dr. Castle, our class sponsor. He keeps busy with his clock making and repairing and watches all the changes going on at MWC. Also heard from Murray Roberts Graff '65 whose husband Art received his M.S. in social work last June and they are now on active duty with the Army at Ft. Knox Ky. Jay is in kindergarten this year and Ben is now 3.

Karen Vandevanter Chapman writes that she is now working part-time for a data appliance company in addition to her work with Junior Woman's Club and tennis. Karen served as education chairman in her Junior's Club last year and won the state award for the work they did in the area of child care. Karen says that Carol VanNess Clapp and Dick moved to Rochester, N.Y. to September where Dick accepted a new job with Garnett Peters, a newspaper chain. Ginger Logie Carr and Cal were to visit Karen and Kurt in December and Karen hoped to see Nancy Shorb Aronio and Joel over for a small reunion. Nancy is now teaching a course in communications at the U. of Hartford.

As for the Wilhelms, we haven't done much fun traveling this year as we never seem to find the time to get away. Frank toured a boat-type ocean fishing last summer and we also joined a country club where we can swim, play tennis and golf. I am still working almost full time (16-hour week) and am still active with Juniors. We never seem to have a dull moment. Frank is now established in an office locally although he is still with Connecticut Mutual. We do see him more frequently now that he doesn't commute to San Diego. I do hope that many of you will be able to make it to the tenth reunion in April. My next deadline is May 10th so please do drop a line before then.

See you next issue,
Linkey

Hello Classmates,

The year 1972 brought two wonderful little changes in our lives. Carl and I now have two sons: Michael, 4, and Robert, 3. These two little brothers really make everything exciting and lively for their doting parents.

The names "John" and "Lisabeth" are constantly heard among my children's chatter as they adore getting together with the youngsters of Edna Knight Roberts. Edna's boy is 4 and girl 2. Caroline Ridgely Hayden and Joanne Frank Lee have also brought their children from afar to greet the two newest members of the Anderson family.

Marie Morris Barnett and John will soon join us in the ranks of parenthood, but they'll start off with the usual diapers and formulas! Their first baby is due in March.

Christmas turned visions of sugar plums into reality for Nancy Lou Moore Kelly and her husband Walter. Their first child was expected in December. Nancy Lou brought me up-to-date with all her news from the past eight years. Carl and her friend Susan Keahey Heater '66 put us in touch. I will pass on some of the highlights of her letter to all of you. After graduation from MWC, Nancy Lou went to work for McGraw-Hill in New York, becoming an assistant editor for Architectural Record. But in April 1970, she left that life behind to marry Walter and move to Vermont.

They and another couple bought a 15-room Greek Revival house built in 1845, and are running an inn, The Inn Place, primarily for skiers. While managing all of this, Walter also manages to travel daily through parts of Massachusetts, New York and Vermont in his job as merchandising supervisor for a Pennsylvania based firm.

Nancy Lou keeps up with news of MWC through friends Ann Bullock Arnold, Jo Morgan Wilson and Elaine Beard Pinterton, Blaine, husband Beau and son Trey have lived for spells in Santa Fe, N.M., and in Tehran, Iran, and have finally settled down in Seattle, Wash., where Beau is a resident physician, to await the birth of their second child.

So, thanks for the memories, Nancy Lou!

I have a chance to see often several other members of our class at the Fairfax Chapter Alumni meetings. At the last Christmas tea, Pam Hawkins Howe was full of talk of her four-year-old daughter and the volunteer pre-school program that she is active in. Nancy Lamb Ratliff Beach has an organization a lot of her creative talents in making items to sell at our Boutique. She and her husband have shown creativity and ingenuity, too, in their jobs. Currently, they own three dry cleaning establishments and a restaurant in D.C. Bonnie Feaney Kerr's former roommate, Jean Ellis Koffarnus, is also living in this area now. We hope to see her at some of our meetings, too.

Coincidentally, I've heard of Anne Marchant Long '63 through Carl's mother. Ann is a deaconess in her Baptist Church in Richmond where she and Jim and family live. Ann's recent concern and care has been devoted to her critically ill father, a heart patient.

Be thinking of more news for our next deadline, May 10.

Judy

Frances Anne Nicholson Rogers wrote of her whereabouts. Husband David is stationed in Germany where they have been for the past two years and where they hope to remain for the next four years. Their home is just outside the city of Kassel which is conveniently located in central Germany. The Rogers' big news is the birth of their first child, a son, Gavin Howard, on September 21, 1972. On a recent trip through Germany, France, Switzerland, Austria and Leichtenstein, they stopped in Munich and visited with Peggy Jernigan '63 and her husband have just been restationed in Germany.

Bette Lewis Chambers has been working with a professional theater in New Bern, N.C. Her work as an actress and director with the group has all her spare time, but she writes, "It's great to finally be paid for the MWC drama department training." Her two sons, 4 and 5 years old. Husband Russ will be getting out of the Marine Corps in a few months.

Susan Ochsbach Nicholson reports that she saw Sue Daughtridge Bore recently. The Boze's are now in Clear Lake City, Tex. where Jack is with NASA.

Linda Ann Crouch Pearce wrote of a change of address. She and David now live at 215 Wilshire Ave., Jackson, Miss. She and David finished graduate school in 1972, and David is now doing post doctoral work at the University of Mississippi in physiology. Linda is teaching community health nursing to senior nursing students at "Ole Miss".

Bonnie O'Brien Petticrew writes that Dan is now plant superintendent for the Masonite Plant in North Carolina. Children Julie and Jeffrey keep her busy.

During the Thanksgiving holiday the Petticrews visited Dan's parents in Indianapolis where Linda saw Faye Leonard Dunean '66. Faye and her husband Randy are expecting their first child in January. The Duncans live in Dayton where Faye is active in the MWC Alumni Chapter. Randy works for Xerox and Faye for NCR. Faye reports that Judy Hensley Repass '66 and Joen Mute Boyd '67 live in Roanoke now. Linda and David visited with Ann Hammer Linn and John in Athens, Ga. in October. John is on a year's sabbatical from E. Illinois University getting his Ph.D. in art criticism at the University of Georgia.

My husband says that with all the news we received this time my column should be really easy to write and I should get it done in no time. I told him that's good because that is just what I have—no time! Anyway, with the "help" of my two little ones, here goes.

It must be baby time again—or still. It seemed as though the "duds" in our Christmas notes contained news of recent or impending additions. The first was from Lindy Harnden Cadela, mother of first child, Michael, was born in November—a month early she said, but he's doing fine. Lindy was planning to return to work as an analyst/programmer for Honeywell in January. She and husband Joe have a new townhouse in Manassas. Lindy was particularly interested in getting in touch with J. J. Osman, J.J., if you're reading this, Lindy's address is 7973 Community Dr., Manassas.

The most surprising bit of news came from Jim and Darriel Webster Fulks '69. Along with a photo of their two adorable children, daughter Kim, 3, and son Koby, 1½ (both little blond versions of mommy), came the news of their second son Kip who was born in October. (And I thought I had my hands full!) Husband Jim is presently attending Duke Law, and Darriel says she has fallen in love with Utah.

Another surprise came from Chris Brooks Young. She said that after eight years of marriage, she and Hubie are finally ready to settle down and become "family folks". Their first child was due to arrive in January.

It will be number three for Steve and Judy Bryan Hamilton's second time in February. Judy said that Steve is going to school again, working toward his M.B.A. at St. Louis U. Daughter-to-be is now in kindergarten and she and Clayde, 2½, are both excited over a new brother or sister.

Tracy and Marilyn Wood Hunter also expecting their third—in April. Marilyn said that Stephanie and Brian Scott have been arguing over who will be able to share a room when baby comes (it twins this time, Marilyn.) Stephanie is in kindergarten now and has already lost her first tooth.

News of several relocations was included this time. Pam Kearney Berg wrote that "we have finally stopped messing up address books." Steve is with Berg Insurance Inc. in Twin Falls, Idaho, so they have settled there.

Ryan Stewart Davis, Roger and daughter Sascha had quite a move, their new home being in Broken Bow, Okla. where Roger is a silvaculturalist. We are hopeful that you were serious about a visit to Florida in the spring, Ryan. My boys are just as curious to meet that cutie looking little blond daughter of yours.

A note from Elaine Gerlech Good included plans to move into their new home by Christmas. They built just outside of Charlottesville. A photo of four absolutely gorgeous children accompanied Elaine's card.

Brenda Loy Crowley wrote that her year has been kind of slow. She and son Sean are living in Norfolk while Fred is in Okinawa for a year. They were, however, anticipating a short reunion for Christmas and Sean's third birthday, as Fred was due to be home on leave. Brenda said that after this tour, they are hoping to be sent to Kansas, where Fred has been accepted at Park College.

Nancy Alford Hernandez sent a newsy letter and a photo of her boy Andrew, who at 2½, looks like a miniature of his dad. Nancy and Dan are enjoying their new home in Maryland. She said they see quite a bit of Linda Spangler Berkheimer and family, their youngest being daughter Betsy, nearly 1. Big brother Flip is 3½. In August they had a small reunion with Mary Parsons Black, who has two adorable children, according to Nancy.

A card from Ambler Carter Kamp contained newsy items. She, Gary and son John are now in Boston with the Navy. Ambler was planning to return to school in January for an M.S. in library science. While in Virginia last summer, Ambler saw Becky Smith Taylor (UVa Nursing '67) and family and also Jane Campbell who is at UVa as a teaching assistant in preparing for her Ph.D. Ambler has been active in the Boston Alumni Chapter, a "very discouraging experience due to a general lack of interest, Ambler said.

Dee Dee Nottingham Ward wrote from Munich that their family now includes two long-hair "dachs" whenever they are! Dee Dee said that Nat has extended in Germany until 1975, so they'll be there awhile longer.

Barbara Morre '67 wrote from Barcelona that she was planning a trip home for Christmas for the first time in two years. She is now teaching English for two different schools and sharing an apartment with two English girls. Her travels include a trip to Nice last summer.

Well, that's about it. Our Christmas, which we enjoyed here in 70 degree weather with most of our relatives, was enhanced by the excitement of our two little boys. Santa Claus was great to us all!

Thanks again to all who sent news. Please don't wait 'til next Christmas to write again!

Ginny

Christmas has come and gone and so have all the newsy cards and visits to friends. Counting the two, I've been able to gather news on the whereabouts and happenings of several classmates.

We made our annual trip to Virginia for the holidays and were able to visit with several friends. Susan Bogese McLaughlin and Jim took us out to dinner in Richmond. They are preparing to move into a new home in January. Since baby number three is due in February the move is not a moment too soon. It seems that all of us on vacation was go out to dinner, as we also dined with Carolee Prosise Taylor and Keith and Carolee's former roomie, Carolyn Reuter Rosen and Ron. Carolee and Keith are now the proud parents of twin boys, David and Bryan, born November 22nd. Needless to say, the Taylors stay busy with a total of three sons. It was a delight seeing Kathy again after six years. The Posens are residing in Los Angeles where both are employed by the Thrifty Drug Store Chain. Kathy is a private secretary and Harlin is the cosmetic buyer. The West Coast must agree with Kathy as she looked absolutely great!

The only other MWC'er we were able to see was my ex-roomie, Candy Schumacher Hamilton. Clyde and I traveled to Allentown, Pa, for a few days where we had a pleasant visit. The Jepsens keep quite busy with work and fixing up their new home and teaching their dog, Gretchen, all sorts of tricks. We missed connections with Mary Ann Pyne White and family, who were on their way from Omaha, Nebraska to Connecticut, via Virginia. Carl recently graduated from the U. of Neb. at Omaha and will be going to Okinawa for a year. Mary Ann and Courtney will wait for him in Connecticut.

It seems that several people have moved their 4-year plans ahead. Wendi Young, Virgil and Matt are now settled in Edison, N.J. for the next few years. Sandra Phillips Harris and family are in Utica, Mich. where Junie is on Navy Recruiting Duty in Detroit. Sandy Dawson Davis, who always manages to find the smallest towns to reside in is now living in Broken Bow, Okla. Roger has taken a position with Weyerhauser where he is a Silvaculturalist for the Oklahoma Block of the Dierks Division. The Davis' plan on being in Oklahoma for about four years and have bought their first house, which they are quite excited about.

Julie Sundstrand Freeman has had an eventful year. First, she and Bill moved to Bryan, Texas where Bill is working on his masters in meteorology at Texas A & M through the Air Force Institutes Program. Then on November 19, 1972, a son, Williams Burns Freeman III was born. Julie says the baby is adorable, which I'm sure he is. Now Julie is a full time mommy and enjoying it. A former roommate of Julie's also resides in Texas. Cheryl Bernard Vernon '67, a recent bride, is in San Antonio where her boy John works for the FDIC. Cheryl has switched from career girl to housewife and loves it.

Finally, someone is moving to Georgia!! Carol Simmons van der Keift '68 will be in the Atlanta area where ADAK is constructing Multe. It should be a nice switch—from the windy city of Chicago to the sunny south. Carol and Mike spent last summer traveling in Europe and not a moment too soon, as this summer will bring a new baby to the van der Keift family.

That takes care of it up for now. Let's not wait until next Christmas to send in your news. Hope all of you have a happy and prosperous 1973.

Dale

Hi—

I sincerely hope that everyone had a very happy holiday and that 1973 is a very good year for all of you.

I was very happy to receive a Christmas card from Mary Diggs Diggs. To quote Mary, "I didn't lose my identity when I left Mary Washington"—the name of Mary's husband is Clarence Diggs! Mary lived in Madrid, Spain, after graduating from MWC, for a year and a half and returned home due to the illness of her mother. Mary earned her master's in Humanities and Education, met her husband at graduate school, and is now teaching in New Jersey. Mary and Clarence have a nine-year-old boy and live in West Orange, N.J. Thanks so much for writing, Mary. It was good to hear from you.

Jeonne Torrence Van Lear also wrote a very "newsy" letter. Jeanne has been very active this year—founding the Independent Study course at U.Va. and active in the Fredericksburg Chapter of the Alumni Association. Through AAUW she is recording tapes for Joan Thomas '68 who is now getting her doctorate at University of Illinois in Medieval History. This January, Mary was discharged from the Army and joined a law firm in Fredericksburg. Jeanne was expecting their second child in February—let us know about your new addition, Jeanne!

Patti Morillo Reider, Frank, and daughter, Jessica, are living in Brooklyn Heights, N.Y. Patti and Frank worked on Leonard Blondes' Congressional campaign in Maryland before moving to New York. Frank is working in the Latin American Office of Chase Manhattan Bank and Patti has almost completed her M.A. at N.Y.U. in Ibero-American Studies. The Reiders hope to get relocated with Chase Manhattan in Brazil sometime in '73.

Nancy McDonald Legat wrote that she and Dao have two girls, Julie (4) and Kimberly (1). The Legats have just moved to Chester from Atlanta. Nancy's husband and his brother have a landscaping business in Hopewell. Nancy is expecting their 3rd child in March.

Nancy wrote that Marion Brechle Yonce and her husband, John, are living in Alexandria. They had a son in June, David Jefferson Yonce.

I talked to Sam Hughes Furlong before Christmas. Tom was made Sales Manager-Trimlad at Sealind Corp. which necessitated a move from Bridgeville to New Jersey for the Furlongs. After much searching, they found a home in Highsmith, N.J. Joan is expecting their second child in May.

Joan had news about my ex-suitemate, Anne Fegan Waldruff. She and Bob are living in Camp Lejune, N.C. awaiting Bob's discharge from the Marine Corps. Bob plans to go with an accounting firm in either Greensboro or Charlotte. Anne and Bob have two children, Paden and Charles Tucker. Let us know where you settle, Anne!

Sunny Wolf Shultz, Porter, and Ted were in Falls Church visiting Susan's family over Christmas. I took Meghan over to play with Ted--he looks exactly like his mom. Porter is studying his master's in business edministration at the University of Arkansas. The Shults' are thinking of settling in Tulsa, Okla. when Porter graduates.

Nancy Adams Fetterer received a letter from Betty Brown Quinter. Betty and Bob are moving to Chicago in March. Bob is still in the Marine Corps and Betty plans to get her teaching certification when they move.

John, Meghan, and I moved into a new house New Year's Eve week-end, so it was a hectic holiday season, to say the least. Between unpacking the endless number of boxes (it's amazing how much "junk" you acquire in three years!) and running after Meghan, I'm trying to get this letter in before the deadline. I hope you all understand if this is a bit incoherent.

Take care, everyone, and please drop me a line about yourselves.

Love,
Susie

Before I begin to mention any news in this column, may I casually drop a hint to those of you who have moved within the past year? Please do not forget to send your new address (and/or name change) to the Alumni Office or to me so that we can keep in touch with you and continue to send you the Alumni publications. My collection of cards and letters returned marked "not at this address" tells me where some of you are not, but not where you are.

A few of the cards and letters that I sent out during the winter did reach their destinations, however, and provoked some rather interesting answers. For example, Marcia Bellmann, who attended MWC from 1964 to 1966, was so shocked to hear from me that she called me from Richmond, where she was visiting her family (she is now living in Baltimore). Liz Gutrieson '70 replied a bit more conservatively to my card with its frantic "where are you?" by writing a nice long letter. At present, Liz is living in Richlands and working with Anne Gordon Greever '72 (another former Bullet staff person) on the staff of the Richlands News-Press, a weekly edited by Anne Gordon's father.

Several other alumni also have "reported in" during the past few months. Jamie Stuart Boozer, who was expecting her first child when she wrote in late December, now is living in Charlotte, N.C., where her husband John has a new job as advertising manager of the Messenger. After spending her summer as an area supervisor on a psychological dig in Israel, Helen Caldwell '69 wrote in December that she was progressing well in writing her thesis at Missouri and was facing the "terrible prospect of comps and a dissertation next year." Now that I have finished all of my Ph.D. exams and am working on my dissertation, I can sympathize!

The longest letter of all this winter came from my faithful correspondent Eileen Crowley Baker, whom I must acknowledge as the source of the rest of the information in this column. Eileen had been teaching high school math in Allentown, Pa., and had 27 hours of math toward a master's, by the way, when as she puts it, she "quit both in July" and married Lt. L. Baker, III (Yale '68) in August. Now Eileen and Frank are living in Charlottesville where Eileen has a job with Albermarle County Schools teaching eighth grade physical science, while Frank finishes up his third year of law school at UVa. Also in Charlottesville, according to Eileen, is Anne Pasternak McKinnon '68, who is teaching at Jack Jowett Jr. High School while her husband Jock studies law. Melissa Johnson Kane '71 and her husband Jon were also in Charlottesville, but by time Eileen wrote (Jon was finishing his last semester of law school while Melissa was writing her thesis for a master's degree in art history), but were scheduled to move in January to the Philadelphia area where Jon was to begin practicing labor law with a Philadelphia firm. Pennsylvania, also, is Barbara Boiley, who was a lawyer with the Philadelphia Public Defender's Office but now is working with the State Crime Commission.

I might just mention now a few other items also gleaned from Eileen's letter. Carolyn Metz Hundley and husband Larry were scheduled to move in January from State College, Pa., where Larry had been working on his doctorate in geophysics while Carolyn was doing substitute teaching, plus sewing and ceramics, to the D.C. area where Larry has a new job. Another alumna in a new home is Connie Stewart Etter '67, who has a new home in Oceanside, Calif. Finally, Eileen noted that Belinda Lowenhupt is studying in the psychology dept. at UVa and expects her Ph.D. in June.

One other letter that arrived during the slow-mail time from Mrs. Helen Fasse, former head resident of Marshall Hall, She is retired now and living in a small apartment on Sunken Road, about three blocks west of Marshall. I am sure that she would enjoy hearing from some of you who once lived in Marshall.

I hope that I will hear from more of you during the coming months as I sit quietly in my study working on the style of the poet Lucretius and studying a little symbolic logic on the side and Luitpold teaches and does his research. (And no, we do not speak Latin to each other.)

Bobbie

Lots of news to report, thanks to the lovely Christmas card tradition which persuades even the busiest of us to steal some time to keep in touch. First, let me relay a few NOV letters. Sherry McCormick Plunkett wrote from Camp LeJeune, N.C., where her husband, Capt. Ed Plunkett, is a lawyer and judge in the USMC. Their second child, Kathryn Lorene, was born in April '72. They plan to return to Virginia in June '73 when Ed completes his active duty. Sherry sees former roomie, Virginie "Ginger" Wills Collina, and Ron had a son, Matthew Lloyd, in October '72. The Collins live in Auburn, Ala., where Ron is in school for further study during his Air Force career.

Bill and Sandy Phelps Hammond are in Atlanta where Bill will receive his MBA from Emory U. in June--and No. 1 in his class to boot. Sandy teaches Spanish in DeKalb County. For Christmas, Sandy and Bill chaperoned a student group to Madrid, Spain! Sandy belongs to the Atlanta Chapter of the Alumni Association in which Barbara Hogue Stevenson is also a member and Lee Henderson White is president. Additional news from Sandy: Ron and Barbara Roy Berning are in Long Beach, Calif., and had their second child, Mary Anne, in January '72. Mac and Suzanne Hervey McHugh had their second child, a boy, in February '72 in Norfolk, Va. Bill and Nancy Adams Fetterer live in Columbus, Ohio. They had their first child, Aaron Michael, in September. Beth Volkert Mewhinney and husband Tom had their first, Kathleen (Kate), in June. They're still in Hawaii but are due for a transfer early in '73.

Another nice November surprise--a telephone call from Dinah McGuire '70 who is currently a "house mother" and sociology teacher at a girls' school in Greenfield, Wis. "It's hard to believe she's been only 20 min. away since I've been in Amherst! Dinah joined me for lunch on campus and we had a delightful time "catching up" on the past four years. She looks terrific and enjoys her job. Hope Steve and I will see more of her in '73.

A good place to run into lots of people is in Filene's Basement in Boston, and sure enough Steve and I bumped into Ann Fisher Driscoll during the Thanksgiving holiday. Kris lives in Ithaca, N.Y. now where her husband is pursuing his doctorate at Cornell. Kris works for a gas company in the area of public relations and gets to travel in her line of work. Steve and I were in Ithaca in October on a wash we'd known the Driscolls were there.

Now on to the Christmas cheer. Please forgive any lack of continuity--I just want to be sure and mention everyone! The Buclows--Bob, Susan Wagner and Jessica--were busy this holiday. Bob is still with Johnson and Johnson in Illinois, but now in the area of production planning. Speaking of production, Susan and Bob are expecting their second child anytime now, so by the time this issue is printed, congratulations will be in order!

Jerry, Bitle Jody and Lawson Stillman Greenwood have been transferred to Roanoke where Jerry works for the Secret Service. Jody is almost 2 and his activities were temporarily curtailed recently by a full length cast which was mending a fractured tibia. I imagine Jody is back in action by now, and a new little brother or sister in June should bring even more "action" to the Greenwood household!

Craig and Martha Ann Maddox Wardlaw spent their first Christmas as a family . . . with Emily Christine, born September 16. Emily's parents are most proud, and admit they've got quite an angel on their hands. Craig, in addition to his job at the bank, coached and taught a course on investments this year. The Wardlaws have also purchased a house in Charlotte and plan to move in February.

Mahmut and Nancy Porter Atakan enclosed a cute picture of Alp (17 mos.) with their card. They're still in Istanbul and were visited by Sheila Spivey for two weeks in Sept. The Atakans are expecting their second child in July.

Rick and Mary Margaret Morston Monroe spent Christmas at home in Atlanta this year and M.M.'s creative hands were busy making wreaths, etc. for the holidays. The smiling faces of Jennifer (9 mos.) and Christopher (3 yrs.) adorned the card from John and Sally Monroe Fox. They spent Christmas at home in Westport, Conn. Suzy Blankenship Capone's parents visited her, Gip, and Kevin for the first time--a made their holiday even more delightful. Pam Tumpkins Vance and daughter Sally had a happy Christmas in Virginia Beach. Santa brought Pam a ship for Christmas--the US Navy has returned from the Med!

Anne Tooke spent the holidays studying for exams, but it will all be worthwhile in June when she completes her graduate studies and takes a well deserved 6 weeks trip to Europe! Anne is currently working part-time doing individual, family and group therapy at a Mental Health Clinic and loves it.

Cheryl Hadison Busse '67, Bob and Karen live in Wisconsin so he with Bob's family for the holidays. They're having their first home built in Virginia Beach and anticipate its completion on Jan. 15. Bob is now a head at Planter's, and Cheryl is working part-time at an arts and crafts shop.

Barbara Henderson Riordan '69 and Dick enjoyed their first Christmas with 9-month-old Jonathan in Burke, Va. Peggy Lou Murphy Kennedy '70 and Bob received an early Christmas present--Kerry Lee--in Nov. Peggy Lou is a busy mother but is still working part-time on her master's in special education.

Mill and Sharon Simpson Brown and daughters Tamara (2½) and Nicole (1) spent the holidays at home in Glens Falls, N.Y. amidst 3 ft. of snow! Mill is still with the Army Reserves and goes to grad school part-time, and in addition to being a wife and mother, Sharon has her activities as wife of the MWC chorus master's special assistant.

Mill and Sharon Simpson Brown and daughters Tamara (2½) and Nicole (1) spent the holidays at home in Glens Falls, N.Y. amidst 3 ft. of snow! Mill is still with the Army Reserves and goes to grad school part-time, and in addition to being a wife and mother, Sharon spent two years in San Diego working in computing on analysis of nuclear reactors and space flight designs for a subsidiary of Gulf Oil. After Toni returned home to Charlottesville to marry Chuck Morgan whom she "found" in California and they've been living since in Madison, Wis., where he is in the graduate oceanography program. Toni is doing interim work as a secretary for Equitable Life Assurance and is looking for graduate work in computer sciences. I'll do my part in renewing old friendships and say that Toni would like to hear from Nancy Bowers Brittle and Suzanne Clerk.

Another nice letter came from Sue Ashby Yeon who has been keeping busy as ever. Upon graduation Sue went to Temple U. to get her master's in special education and taught for a year at a school for emotionally disturbed children in Langhorne, Pa. Dissatisfied with both, she returned to Maryland and for three years has been teaching junior high vulnerable children in a Baltimore ghetto school. Sue loves her job, is a department chairman, and received her master's at Loyola in Baltimore. She married her husband Bill last May and he is a parole and probation agent with the state of Maryland. She related that Mary Kidd Hauser, Heidi and daughter Freya are at the U. of Minnesota where Mary teaches. She also mentioned that Sheila Wands Cooley '68, Josh and Elizabeth have bought a home near Annapolis and Sheila teaches Spanish at James Monroe. Sue is in search of Sally Rodgers, and I'll tell you all that I have current addresses of those who wish to and otherwise the Alumni Association has a complete list and is quite willing to furnish addresses.

Robert Newton dropped me a note saying that she is working on her thesis research project at Med. College of Va. for her Ph.D. in physiology. Last October she had the pleasure of returning to MWC as a guest lecturer for the Anatomy and Physiology course.

New another Key Hatton Snow wrote while they were at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. for four weeks. They should be in Ft. Bragg, N.C. now for three years. Kay was rushing over Andrew, Jr. and it sounds as if he's keeping her quite busy.

Well, I think the distance prize will go to Lyn Howell Gray. She and Jim left in November for Liberia where they will be for two years with the Peace Corps. They are undergoing training now, but hope to be teaching by late February. Lyn says the people are wonderful, the weather hot and humid and everything interesting. Hope you'll still receive your alumni news there! Cecelia Smith Riffer, Bill and Cory visited us in October the day after they had been at the Grays. Lyn had some MWC girls in to see the Riffers . . . Linda Eadie Matthews, Amy Hoskot Kreutzer, Martha Wilbourne Cummings, and Marianne DeBlois. A Christmas card from Ann Shepard Herzog in Boston told me that she is working for the American Reading Institute as a sales representative in Florida! She makes a couple of 5 day trips a month to sell a reading efficiency program to schools. Nota bad vacation every month! Andy is a first year resident in neurology at Boston City Hospital.

That's about all my news for this time. We've naturally been busy fixing up the nursery and just getting excited about the new Julian. Please write and let everyone know your news.

Donna

Believe it or not, I'm back again! We began our move from Tacoma, Wash., in March and after numerous delays were finally settled here at Fort Dix in September. Now that I have my belongings home, I'll try to fill you in on some of the news.

Johnnie is stationed here at Fort Dix and it looks as if we may stay here for a couple of years. I haven't even looked for a job yet—might not. Right now I'm just enjoying the role of housewife. It's great to be back on the East Coast after all that time out in Washington. It's almost like coming back to civilization.

I must apologize to the many alumni who wrote to me during my period of displacement for delaying so long before passing on their news. From now on I should be able to do better.

I received a ten page letter from Kathi Milliken Shinderman. She and sister-in-law Donna Wolfe Shinderman '66 have been making and selling children's plaques as a hobby. They are both living in the Annandale area. Kathi said that Linda Gattis and Marianne DeBlois are sharing an apartment in Manassas and teaching there. Betty Wade Miles is working for IBM in Richmond. Kitty Sheane Hart '68 is teaching in Michigan and going to grad school while Ted works as an architect for General Motors.

Linda Sargent was married last January to John Kaupman. John is a doctor and is presently a resident in dermatology at VA Hospital. Vonnie McNair Sheap wrote that her husband, Kirk, was also beginning his residency in dermatology at UVa this summer. Maybe Linda and Norma have run into each other in Charlottesville. Linda wrote that she visited Joan Perrier Bollenbacher in Philadelphia and had lunch together at the Naval Base. At the time, they were expecting their first child. How about it, Joan, are you the proud parents of a son or a daughter?

I also received a nice letter from Karen Kilgore Ralston several months ago. She is teaching 7th and 8th grade while Jim is in law school at the U. of Cincinnati. Karen wrote that Mary Boulware Campbell and John have returned to the East Coast (Alexandria). John is working on his MBA at the U. of Pennsylvania.

Linda Wells Gage finally returned from Ethiopia this summer. Tony is now out of the service and has returned to school. Linda is teaching 5th grade in Buckingham County.

Linda Thomes became Mrs. Bruce V. Boxley III on November 18, 1972. They are living in Spotsylvania and Linda is still teaching high school there.

I had a chance to see or talk with a few alumni while I was in Virginia waiting for our move to New Jersey to be completed. I ran into Joyce Flanders while I was shopping in Norfolk. She is married, but I can't remember her husband's name. Joyce, if you get a chance, how about sending me a little information?

I also saw Tom and Elaine Bell Sloan while I was in Norfolk. Both are doing fine. They have a beautiful home and Eloise is still teaching high school.

Although I didn't get a chance to visit her, I spoke with Cheryl Leavitt Hicks '70 on the phone. She and Walt are living outside Richmond. Cheryl is a claim processor for an insurance company and also a busy mother.

Guess that's all the news for now. If you have been doing anything (and who hasn't!), please let me know about it. Now that we are settled, I promise to do better with my correspondence.

Gail

Hope you all had as nice a holiday season as Johnnie and I did. We spent Christmas here in New Jersey but were back in Norfolk for New Year's.

I received quite a few cards and letters over the holidays. Anne Witham Kilpatrick wrote all the way from Germany. After Roger returned from Vietnam, they were sent to Germany again. Roger has made Captain now and they both seem to be enjoying their tour overseas. They are living off post and Anne is learning to speak German. They are both looking forward to spending a couple of weeks in Spain soon.

Maria Viotto '70, Cheryl Leavitt Hicks '70 and Gail Shifflett Astor '70 were at Linda Thomas Boxley's wedding in November. Linda and Bruce went to Nassau for their honeymoon and came back with tans.

Gail Shifflett Astor '70 is working as a medical transcriptionist in Alexandria now. Rob passed the bar and is an attorney at the Passport Office of the State Department.

I got a nice letter from Linda Sargent Kaufman last month. She said Jan Webster MacDonough is planning to be married this summer. Mirzy Culpepper Colingwood is living in Prince George and is working on her master's in sociology at V.C.U.

Norma Turbeville Payne and Lynn are now living in Chesapeake. Norma went back to teaching third grade in December.

I have also returned to teaching—on a substitute basis. Keeps me pretty busy now that it's fin season!

Linda Wells Gage returned from Ethiopia quite a while ago. She was supposed to have been living in Virginia somewhere and teaching while Tony is going back to school. Unfortunately, I've lost contact with my old roommate. Linda, if you get this, please be sure to drop me a note.

Have a happy 1973. I'm looking forward to hearing from you all.

Gail

Eleanor Woollard writes that since graduation she's gone through a variety of jobs, primarily because drama majors aren't in great demand. She went to New York City "with some delusions of grandeur and after some months trying to live in the YWCA on the West Side, landed a secretarial position serving a prominent bone surgeon located in Harlem." After secretarial work Eleanor found a job in mid-Manhattan as a private detective. She worked undercover to discover shop lifters and investigate internal security. A year later she moved to Portsmouth, Va. and became involved in urban renewal. She is presently a project coordinator for the Portsmouth Redevelopment and Housing Authority. Her roommate of three years, Ann Chatterton, is studying for her M.A. at Johns Hopkins University..

Phyllis Newby Thompson is currently teaching seventh grade in Montgomery County, Va. and will complete her master's degree in education from Virginia Tech. Husband John is coordinator of professional and management training for the college of business at Virginia Tech. He received his master's of business administration in 1971.

Hi, everyone! After last issue's complete lack of news for the Class of 1970, I expected a deluge of letters and Christmas cards but no such luck! Assuming the great silence is due to everyone being so busy, why not take a few minutes to jot down your news and tell us why you're so busy!!

Although mail was scarce, I did hear from OJ Johnson Caprio who writes from Memphis, Tenn. where she still works for Aetna Ins. while her husband Joey continues at law school. OJ states she and Joey gave each other a Super Beetle VW for Christmas then traveled home to Norfolk to spend the holidays with their folks. OJ writes that she hears from Gladys Rase who is still in N.Y. working as a secretary.

My other piece of alumni mail came from Sharon Arthur Spencer who enclosed a round robin letter with her Christmas card. She writes that husband Bill is now cruising on the USS Intrepid in the Far East, having spent Christmas in Singapore. With the holidays, Sharon suspended her "household routine" while as she awaits the arrival of a 'little Spencer" sometime in January. Hope she finds this second career as enjoyable as her first.

Christmas also brought news from Ray and Janet Weatherford O'Kelly in Richmond. Janet continues counseling pregnant unwed girls who have been committed to the State, while Ray finishes up grad school. Other holiday news included a baby announcement from Donnie and Mary Andrews Wheatley for their son born soon after Thanksgiving. Another set of proud parents included Skip and Donna Penhall Jones who welcomed their little girl, Andrea, last fall. And speaking of babies, my sister Tanya Payne McRee '68 and her husband Robert are expecting their second child sometime in March. They are still living in Longview, Texas where Robert continues working for a pharmaceutical company.

Back on the home front, Billy and I are as happy and as busy as ever. Billy still works in the engineering dept. for the C & P Telephone Co. in D.C. while I continue my job as an intake worker determining a client's eligibility for public assistance. And I still spend Sat. mornings at art lessons furiously painting canvases to cover up our bare white apartment walls. What great fun!

Thus ends the big news from my way! Hopefully, you all will drop me a line so that the next issue will be bulging over with all of your activities. Until then, take care - - -

Gabby

Debby Wiggins Seehorn reports that husband Will is a civilian again. They bought a house in Jacksonville. Debby is still teaching. This year she is teaching high school for the Camp Lejeune Dependent's Schools. Will is working for John Hancock and, "loving every minute of it." Teaching with Debby is Nancy Kennard Pinder. Nancy is teaching chemistry and awaiting husband Cliff's return from Okinawa. Eva Doss Ellison substitutes at the high school and happily cares for her son when not working. Kay Samuel Rogers and Holly Dinger Paradis are both living in Jacksonville and teaching in the same school. Debby has also heard from Mary Jane Rehm. Mary Jane was married on January 29, 1972 to Ralph Pearcy III. Her sister Joanne Rehm '75 was maid of honor. Attending the wedding were Ann Mize, Debi Rogers '73 and Betsy Jane Smith '73. Mary Jane and Ralph are currently living in Charleston in quarters on the Naval Base.

Jane Reynolds Shenk and David are in Tampa, Fla. where David is an accountant and Janie is attending grad school. The Shenks recently moved to Florida from Boston where they had excellent company—Frannie Sydnor and Jane Parker Morris.

Liz Muvaney Fravel and husband Butch are now in Richmond where Liz just gave birth to her second baby, a son, Linden Alton Fravel III on December 21, 1972. Liz says that Jane Hunt is still working in Washington. Marilyn Morgan is still in New York City and Freda Lodge Vendig is now working in Washington for the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Trish Heimbach Henders and Rich are presently in Chicago where Rich is working for IBM.

The news has been scarce this year, but Christmas brought a few bits to pass along. Nancy Belden's card arrived from Mexico City where she spent last fall doing research for her master's thesis on family planning programs for Mexico. She returned to Georgetown University in January. Melissa Johnson Kane and husband Jon have moved to a new home in Devon, Pa. as Jon began work with Drinker, Biddle & Reath of Philadelphia in January. Missy writes that she is looking for a job and finishing up her master's thesis. Bob and I had a trip-filled fall, with trips to San Francisco, Virginia and Oklahoma. My spring will be filled with meetings working toward the formation of the Episcopal Diocese of San Diego since I was lucky enough to be elected a delegate to the convention from my church. I am still enjoying Janet Hempson Floom's company. She and Marv brought baby Tammy for a New Year's football visit with us. Jan is ever the busy mother these days! Keep writing and best wishes for 1973.

Charlotte

Hi Classmates!

It's that time again for me to sit with pen in hand and inform, inform! I must say that I received some very interesting and newsy letters since my last column was published and I'll try not to forget anything.

I got a really nice letter from Claudith "Dani" Holmes telling me that she is a social worker in Richmond where she is desperately trying to maintain the image of the "single girl"! Pam Hudson and Beth Tyler Staley are also social workers in Richmond. Anita and Orita Whitehead are both married. Anita is now Mrs. John W. Scott, Jr. and is teaching in Charlottesville where her husband is a third year law student. Orita is now Mrs. Richard Martin and they are living in Denver. They have a beautiful baby girl which keeps Orita very busy! Thank you, Dotti.

Aside from writing for the Richmond Mercury, Susan Horder is working on her Ph.D. at Arizona State. The program allows Susan to specialize in photographic art so someday Susan will be a well known curator!

Leslie Kraus sounds as though she has been very busy. After graduation (such a long time ago), Leslie spent some time in Berlin, Germany, then went back to the United States to work as publicity director and fashion coordinator of Misty Harbor Ltd. Baltimore became a very dull city, so the big move took place. Leslie is presently working in Washington, D.C. for Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (Rep., Mich.), on the Hill. JoAnne Bourquard Dawson works in the same office. JoAnne has been with the Congressman for over a year and is a full military caseworker. Leslie has done some speech writing and press releases for the Congressman, and is handling Social Security and Social Services Casework. Kathy "Shred" Schrader is working on the Hill for Congressman Dow of New York. After Cathy Johnson graduated from the University of Alabama, Joe Namath found her a job at Harrah's in Lake Tahoe. Cathy didn't like the West Coast so is now doing graduate work at the University of Alabama. Anne Bullard completed her first year of law school at Ole Miss with grades par excellence. After working for a congressman on the Hill for awhile, Anne is now planning to spend a few months in Europe.

Brenda Pritchett has moved to Fredericksburg and is now working for the Welfare Dept. of Spotsylvania County. Tish Stuart Sawyer and Tom were married in November and moved to California where Tom will be working. Pat Killefer has been making quite a name for herself lately, but I'll save the best news for last!

Brenda Britain Miller '70 and Art have bought a townhouse in Norfolk. Brenda is substitute teaching at a junior high school and loves it! Robert Johnson has been appointed Assistant Public Funds in Fredericksburg. Good luck, Robert!

I'm afraid that's all the news that I have this time, and may I take this space to remind you ALL that it is YOUR letters that make my column interesting, not my imagination. To make everyone write, I'm going to keep you all guessing until June on what Pat Killefer's latest activity has been!

Sally R. Mayor

I hope everyone had a really pleasant holiday season in 1972 and that 1973 will be a prosperous year.

I managed to pick up some bits of news about classmates who, although not on my list, have not been mentioned before. Laura Hudson is in graduate school at the University of Virginia. She is rooming with Leelee Saunders, a nurse at the University Hospital who spent her first two years at MWC. Marilyn McKinney is now married and living in Missouri. Danna Steen is marrying her boyfriend John in February. He is due to leave for a tour in the Mediterranean in May. Lisa Lehman Curry lives in Morgantown, W. Va. where her husband is working on his thesis at the University of West Virginia. Lisa will begin her practicum-counseling internship, probably in elementary school, this semester. Diana Rupert Beard and her husband Dave are living in Denver, Colo. She is working in the sales department of the Hilton Hotel chain. Karen Adkm teaches the third grade in private school. Cynthia "Davey" Ellis works in a photography studio in Boston. I have also heard that Carol Matthews Engel and Rich are expecting their first child in March.

A few people sent letters, among them Helen Marocchi Lunglhofer, a boy, Jon Richard Marocchi Lunglhofer, was born to Helen and Rick on October 8, 1972. I hope more people will follow up their letters sent previously.

Sharma Smith Winters' mother wrote to inform me that Sharma is performing with the Charleston Civic Ballet in Charleston, W. Va. She has been with the company only one year and performed a major role. Last year she taught 7th and 8th grade English, but is teaching special education while working on her master's at West Virginia University Graduate Extension Division. Her husband Doug is studying chemical engineering at West Virginia Tech.

Katherine Thompson writes that she is teaching second grade in Stafford as she did last year and really enjoys it. Carolyn Wolfe Maccubbin is teaching middle primary in an open space concept in Winchester. Her husband Tom is de-puty county engineer for Frederick County. They have bought a 55-year-old house which occupies most of their time. Carolyn also wrote that Linda White is employed by the same school system as an elementary librarian. Barbara Whitmer Hill and her husband Donnie are in San Francisco, Calif. Barb teaches, and Donnie works as a postal inspector.

Joanne Neher received a scholarship from the state of Va. to work on her master's in social work at Tulane University in New Orleans, La. She is on a 16 month program and will finish in December of '73. Kathy McLeod is married to Frank Davis who is in law school at Tulane. Kathy teaches the second grade. They were married in June, 1972 and honeymooned in Europe.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Toni Olds and her family on the death of her father.

Pamela Rave Hall is my next door neighbor. She and Steve were married November 20, 1971. Steve is a chemist with the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. They have bought some land near here and are planning to build a house in the next year-and-a-half.

In spite of the fact that Robert and I are expecting our first child around the first of April, I am still teaching and hope to continue for as long as is possible. In the middle of September, my fourth grade class was dissolved and I was given a group of fifth graders to ease an overload of students. Teaching is still as enjoyable as it was at the start of the year, however.

My next deadline is May 10, and I hope to hear from many more people between now and then.
